"And they were still going on, and talking as they went, when all at once, between them, a flaming chariot appeared, drawn by flaming horses, and Elias went up on a whirlwind into heaven. Eliseus watched it, crying out, My father, my father, Irael's chariot and charioteer! But now he had sight of him no longer. He caught at his own clothes and tore them across; then he took up the mantle of Elias, that had fallen from him . . . "

Elias the Thesbite

Carmelite of Today

Theme

Hundreds of years before the birth of Christ, a group of men gathered on Mount Carmel in Palestine. Their leader—Elias the Thesbite. Their purpose—to pay homage to the woman who was to be the mother of the Messiah. Thus the Carmelite order came into being.

During the Crusades of the middle ages, the successors of Elias were found continuing their practice on Mount Carmel. The order came to Europe with the returning troops and the Carmelite order arrived in the Western world.

Since then it has extended to all corners of the earth, teaching and spreading the devotion to Our Lady of Mount Carmel and her brown scapular.

This year being the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mount Carmel High School in Los Angeles, we have chosen for our theme the order of men that has made the glory and honor of the past two and one half decades possible. In particular, we have gone back to the very beginnings high atop Mount Carmel. Some of the incidents depicted concerning Elias and his followers are recorded fact, others are speculation.

However, be it fact or fiction, as we page through this book we are constantly reminded to the words of Elias—"With zeal I am zealous for the Lord God of Hosts."

MATER DECOR CARMELI.

Dedication

In dedicating a book such as this, it is necessary to find one person who is respected by all and who has performed some service for the school. After twenty-five years of students and happenings, it is all but impossible to single out one person from all those who have helped Mt. Carmel High in so many ways. However, the task was accomplished.

We have chosen a person who is honored and respected by people the world over. She is known under many titles, but we have chosen one made known through the order of which our school is a part. She singled out one member of this order, St. Simon Stock, to receive her greatest gift to us, the brown scapular. She has been the subject of many works of art down through the ages, including a very famous one depicted on the facing page. She has truly favored our school, helping and guiding it through twenty-five years of progress. We, the staff of the 1960 El Conquistador, reverently dedicate this annual to Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

" . . . the Carmelite Order is in a special way dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother and Ornament of Carmel. From her, Carmelites will learn to keep all the words of the Lord in their hearts and ponder over them, and to love solitude and silence. To this most sweet Mother they will flee in all difficulties of the interior and exterior life. By the hands of the most pure Virgin they will offer to God their prayers, labors and crosses to be purified from defects and impurities. In the arms of the Mediatrix of all graces they will tranquilly breathe forth their soul, finally to behold Him unveiled in the light of glory whom they contemplated in this life veiled in faith."

The community of men on Mt. Carmel in Palestine was a well-organized group. It was necessary to train the novices in the ways of the newly founded order. So it was that Elias and the other older men often met to discuss their methods of teaching . . .

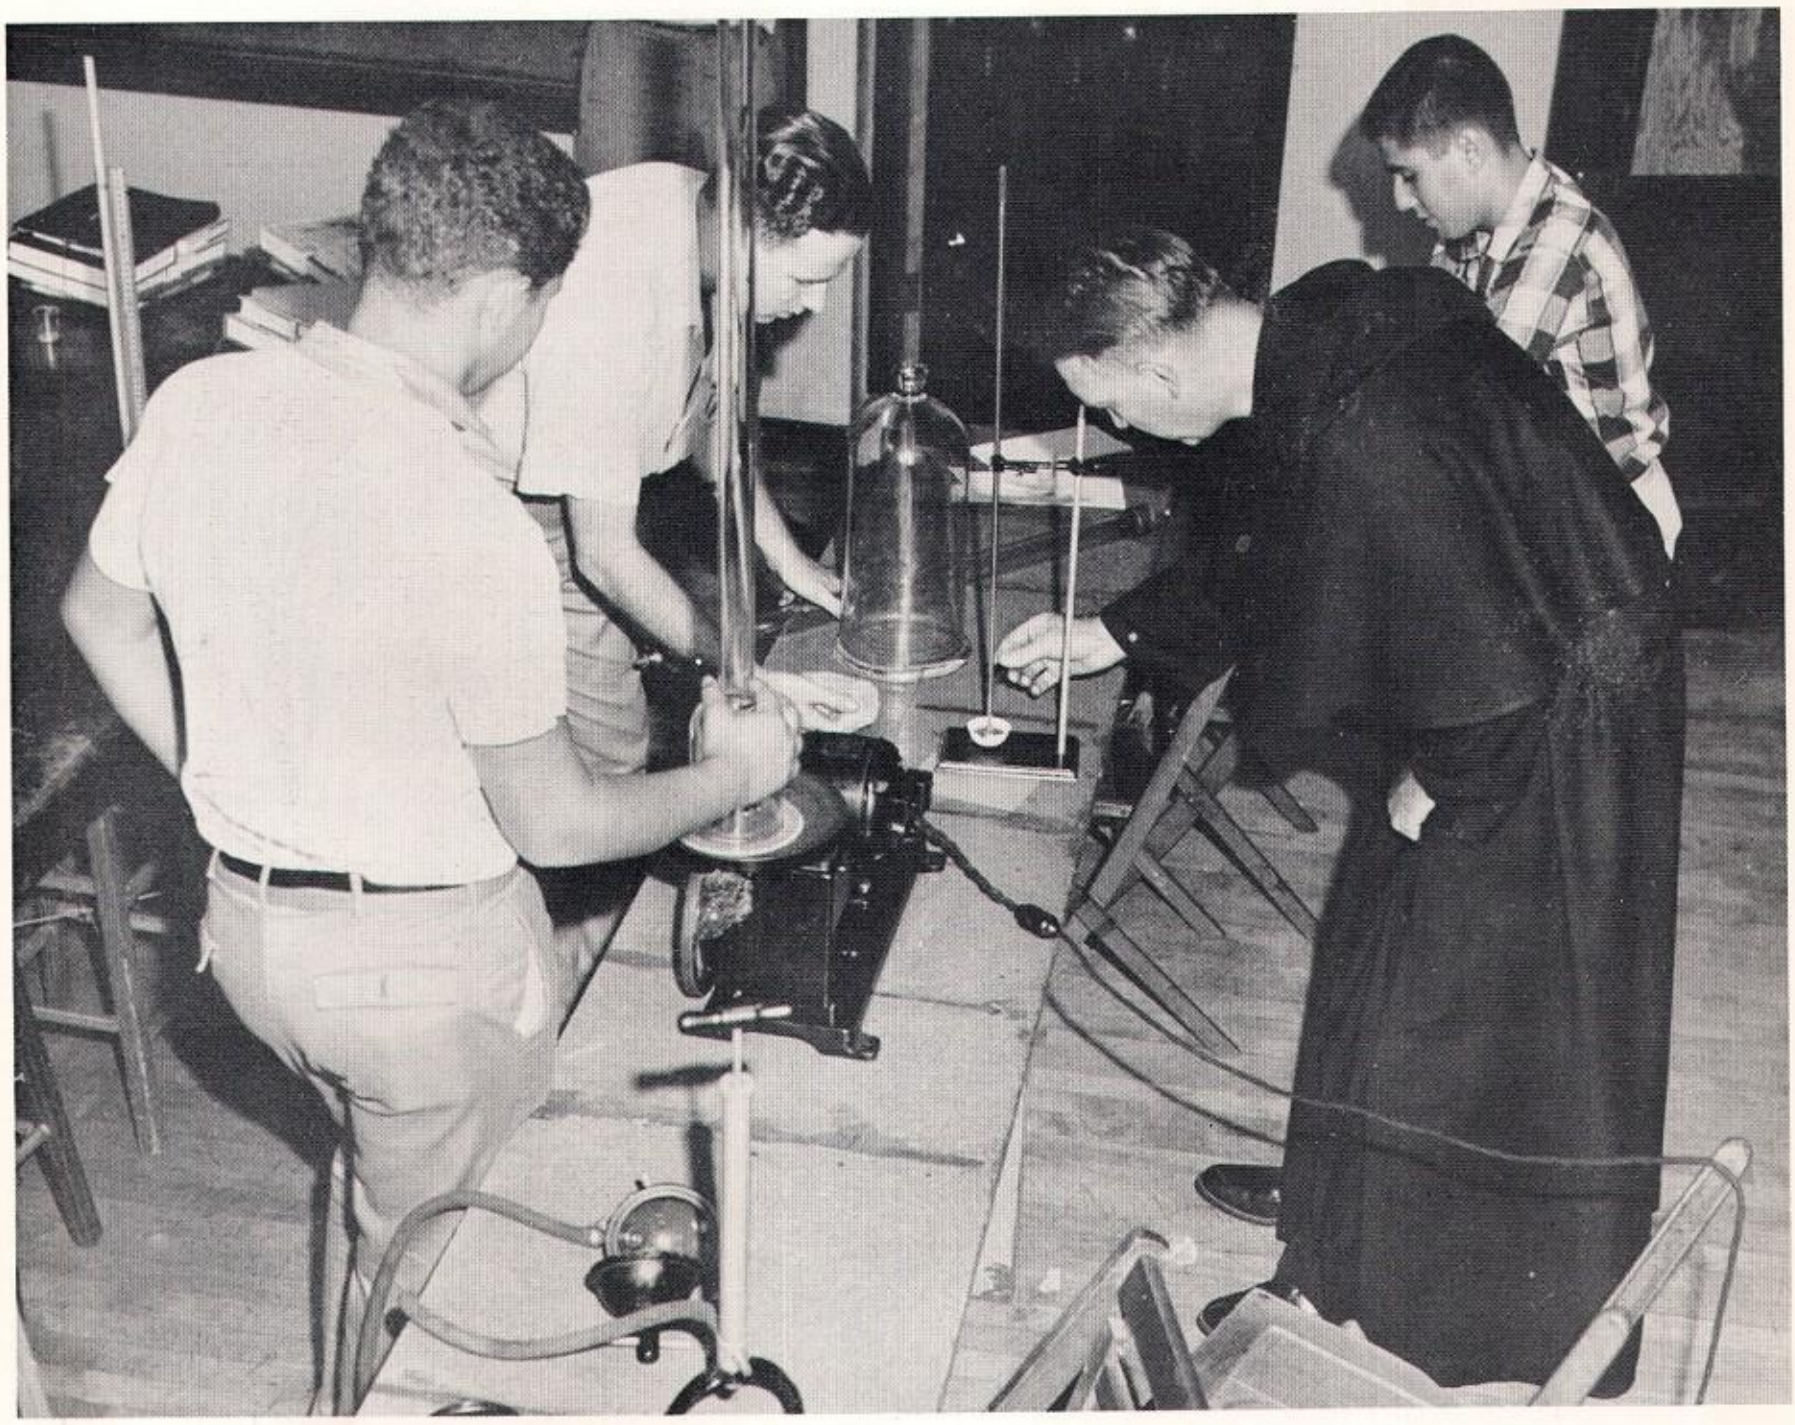
Zeal for the Lord God of Hosts was an integral part of the lives of the early Carmelites. The young men of the order gathered to listen to Elias speak. They profited from this, both mentally and spiritually . . .



. . . In the classes of the modern-day Mt. Carmel, the students gather to hear the words of the teacher—words that are meant for instruction and for betterment. From this the students increase in wisdom and maturity.

MOUNT CARM
HIGH SCHOOL

Senior Farewell Message

My dear Seniors:

Congratulations from your faculty and fellow students on the occasion of your graduation!

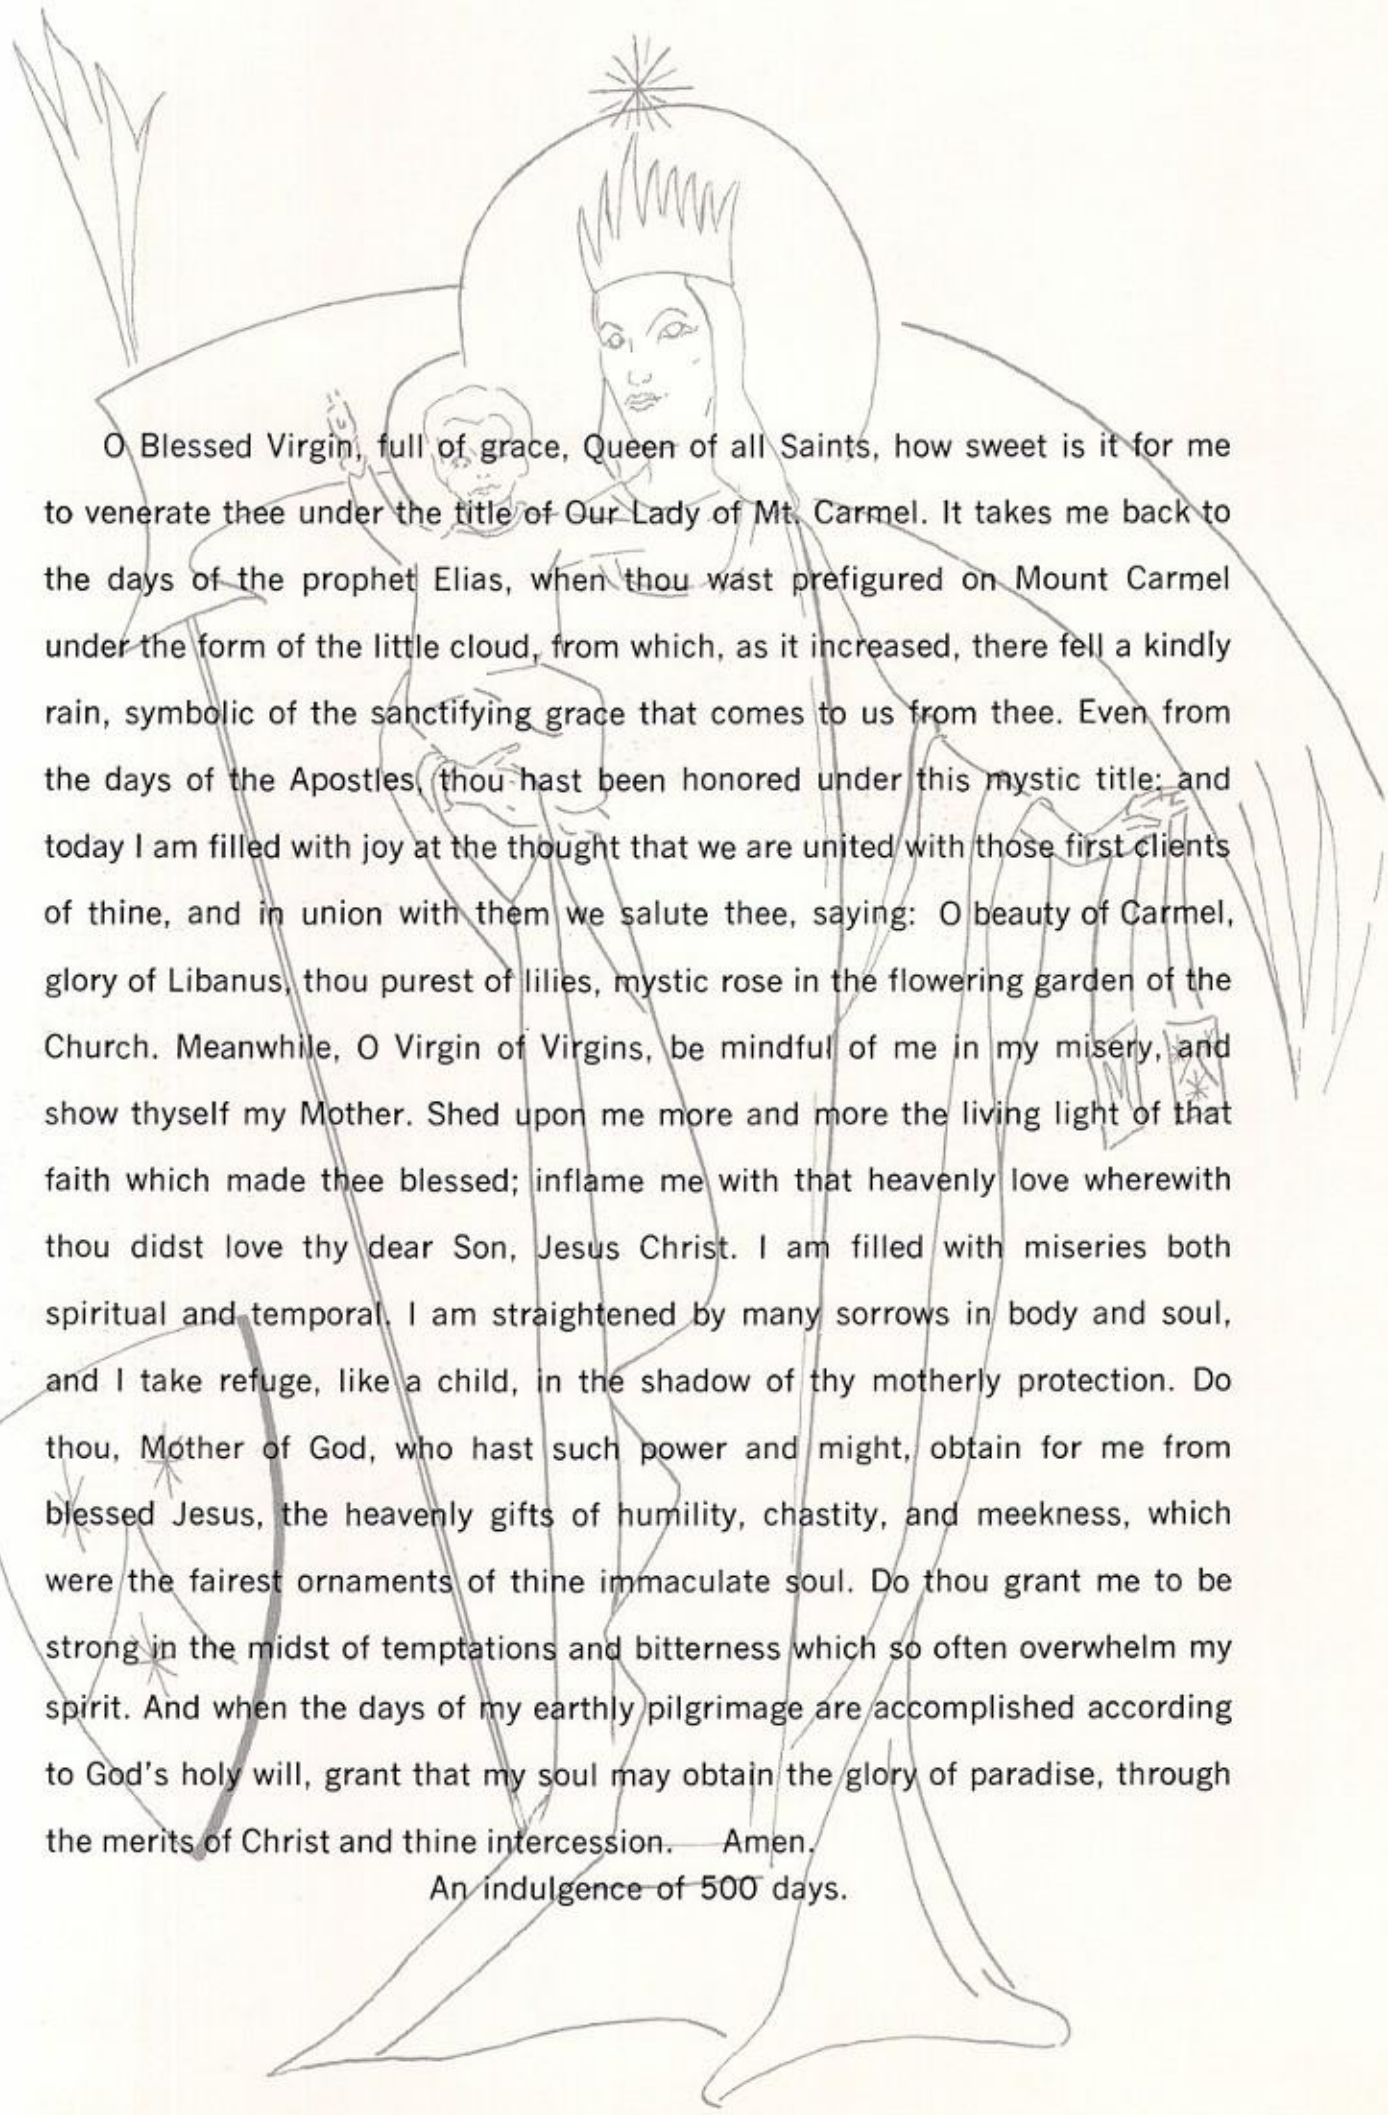
During your final year at Mount Carmel you helped to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of our school. It was a busy time and we hope that this year and the others you have been with us have given you many happy memories. This formative time in your lives has been spent in a school dedicated to excellence in all things—spiritual, mental and physical. Our wish for you is that you may continue what you have started here by staying close to your faith and your God.

May Our Lady of Mount Carmel always protect you.

Sincerely,

Eugene J. McCallen, O.Carm.
Principal

A Prayer to Our Lady of Mount Carmel



O Blessed Virgin, full of grace, Queen of all Saints, how sweet is it for me to venerate thee under the title of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel. It takes me back to the days of the prophet Elias, when thou wast prefigured on Mount Carmel under the form of the little cloud, from which, as it increased, there fell a kindly rain, symbolic of the sanctifying grace that comes to us from thee. Even from the days of the Apostles, thou hast been honored under this mystic title: and today I am filled with joy at the thought that we are united with those first clients of thine, and in union with them we salute thee, saying: O beauty of Carmel, glory of Libanus, thou purest of lilies, mystic rose in the flowering garden of the Church. Meanwhile, O Virgin of Virgins, be mindful of me in my misery, and show thyself my Mother. Shed upon me more and more the living light of that faith which made thee blessed; inflame me with that heavenly love wherewith thou didst love thy dear Son, Jesus Christ. I am filled with miseries both spiritual and temporal. I am straightened by many sorrows in body and soul, and I take refuge, like a child, in the shadow of thy motherly protection. Do thou, Mother of God, who hast such power and might, obtain for me from blessed Jesus, the heavenly gifts of humility, chastity, and meekness, which were the fairest ornaments of thine immaculate soul. Do thou grant me to be strong in the midst of temptations and bitterness which so often overwhelm my spirit. And when the days of my earthly pilgrimage are accomplished according to God's holy will, grant that my soul may obtain the glory of paradise, through the merits of Christ and thine intercession. Amen.

An indulgence of 500 days.

As Freshmen, the graduating class of 1960 wandered the corridors of Carmel in awe. They viewed the Seniors and thought of their achievements, awaiting the day when they too would lead the school. When that day finally arrived, the 1960 class began a year of wondrous achievements that will be hard to surpass in the future. Senior outings, the first Homecoming, the outstanding athletic teams, and the many fine scholars who have won acclaim highlighted a most successful year.

This class truly is befitting Carmel's 25th anniversary, a great year in Carmel history.

It is often remarked that a Freshman class is like a novitiate. As these young men enter into a life of diligent study and zealous prayer, their lives are influenced and motivated by glorious traditions and goals. This is assuredly true of the class of '63. Living and learning under the tutelary arms of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, they have come to love and honor that which is Mount Carmel.

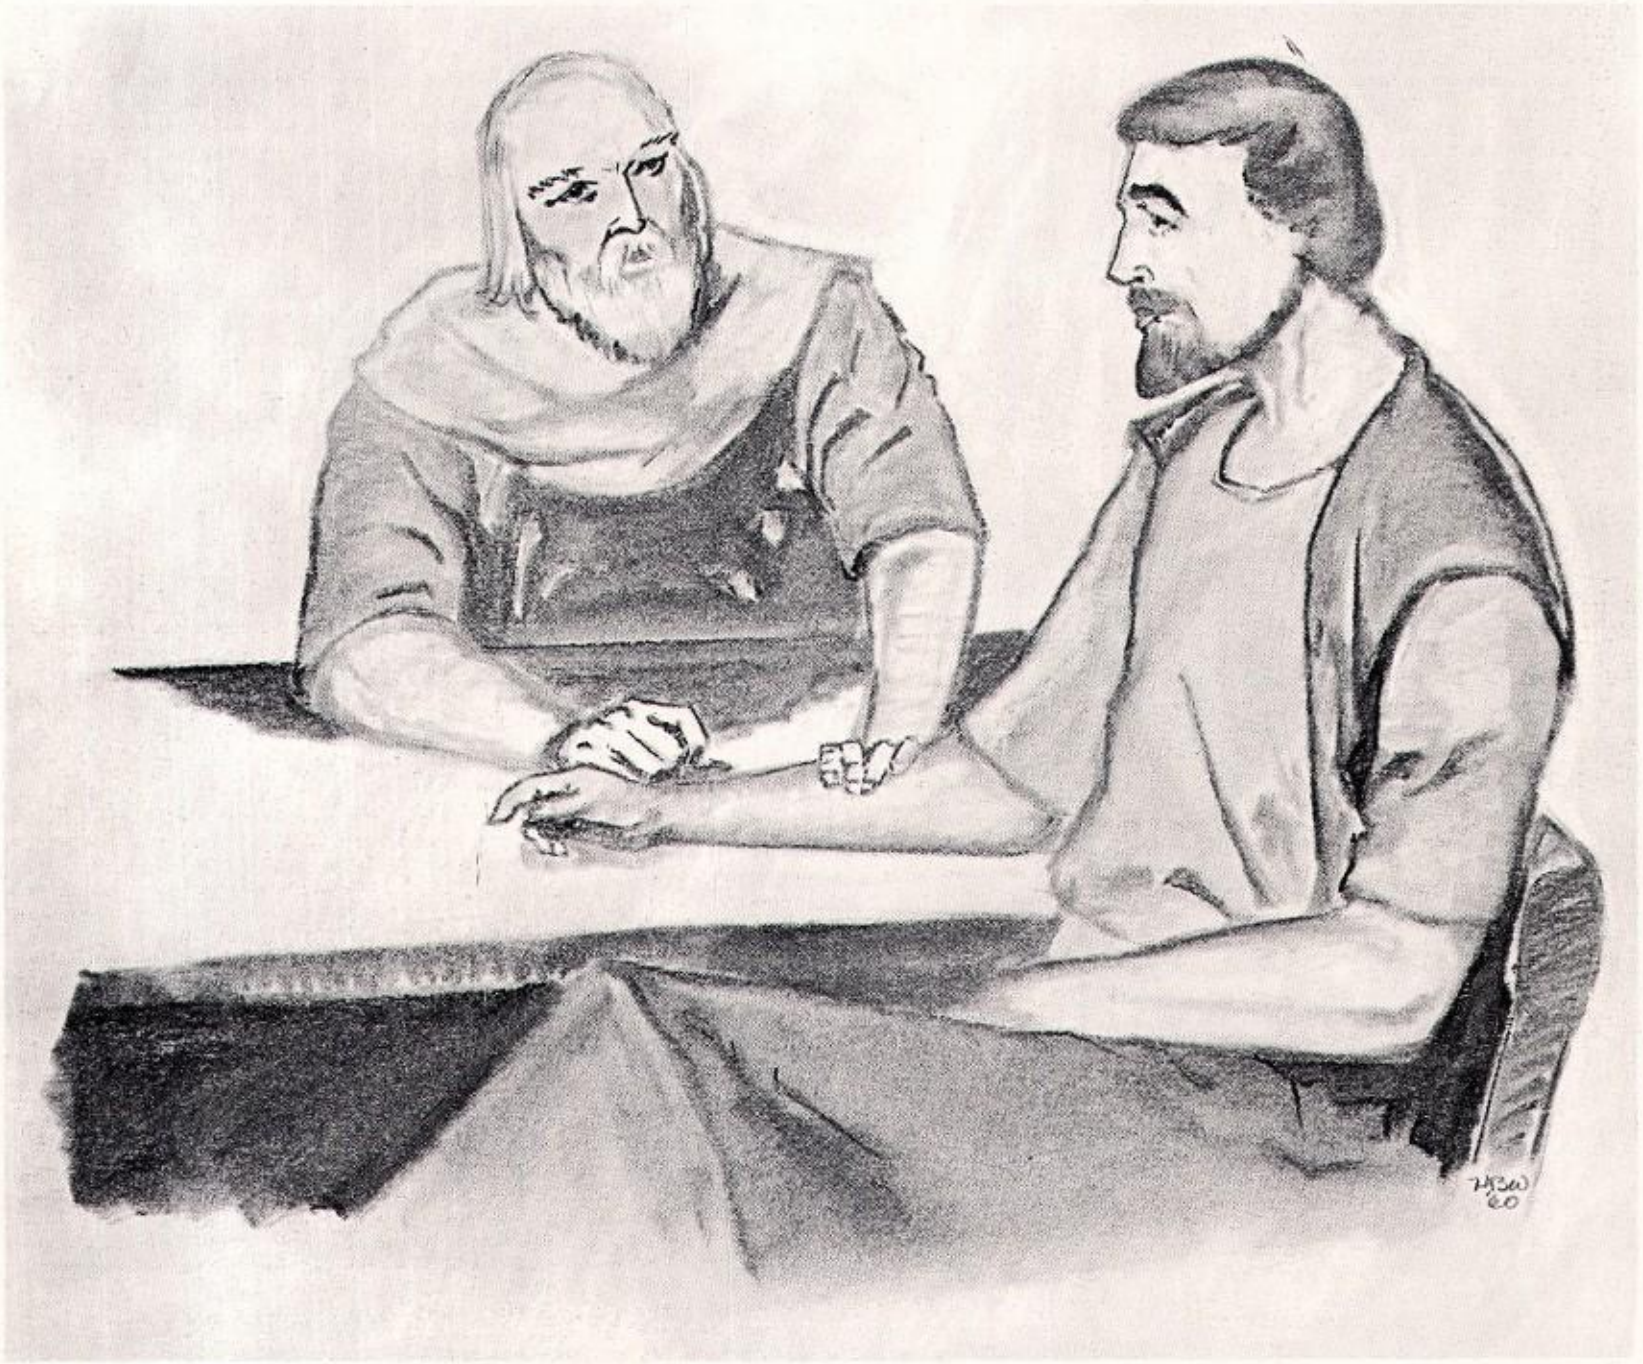
Student Government



Self rule is an important step in the maturing process on an individual. On Mt. Carmel, the younger men were allowed to handle their own problems as they were faced with them. Still, Elias and the elders kept a watchful eye on them, offering them guidance and counsel . . .

. . . Student government and self rule, under faculty supervision, have played major roles in making the men of Carmel what they are today. When the student puts discipline and school regulations into practice from the enforcing end, he is better able to understand the reasoning behind the rules of life of Mt. Carmel High.

This year, as in every year, the Student Council was chosen by popular vote. However, the six men elected for the school year '59-60 did more than rest on their laurels for their terms. The work done by them in furthering school spirit, prestige, and cooperation will not soon be forgotten.

When an athlete has shown outstanding prowess in some particular sport, he should receive public recognition for it. This is one purpose of the Lettermen's Club. Functionally, however, it is a service club whose duty it is to keep order at school events. Being well organized and skillfully led, this year's letterman's club has done its job exceptionally well.

As the major honor society in the school, the California Scholastic Federation is highly respected by the students. Publications

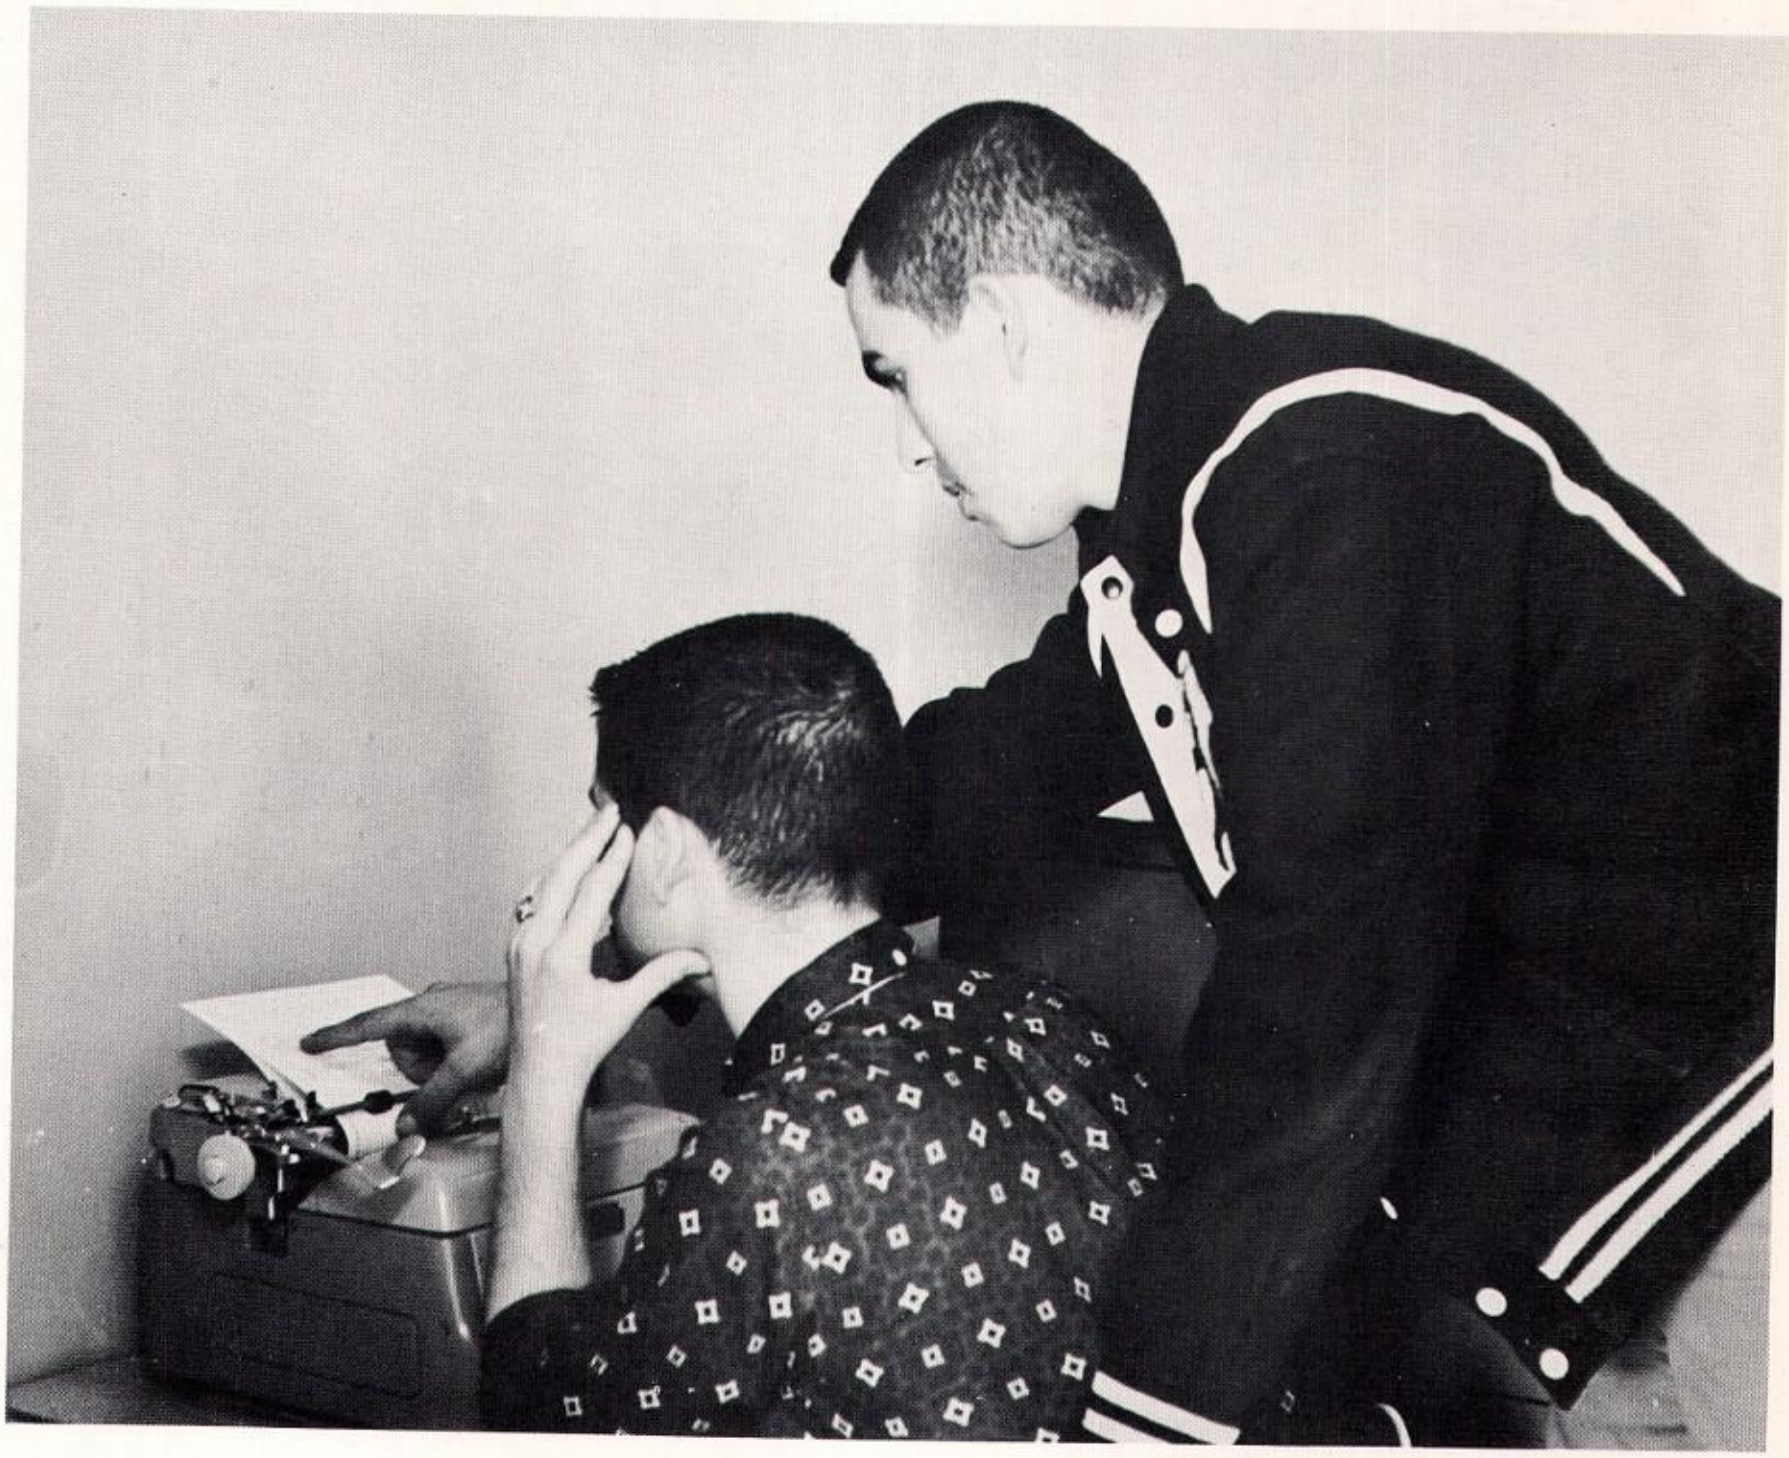
In order for the traditions of the men on Mount Carmel to be preserved for the future, Elias and his group had to record every facet of their daily lives and a history of their rules . . .



. . . The traditions of Mt. Carmel today are preserved through the same methods. The "Crusader", the school newspaper, and the "El Conquistador", the school annual, have become traditions in their own right.

At the beginning of the school year, the students were promised a bigger, better, and more frequent newspaper. This promise became a reality with the first edition of the "Crusader". The 1959-60 Crusader staff is to be congratulated on the wonderful job that they have done.

Organizations

Although all men are created equal, the men of Mt. Carmel realized that an individual's interests can vary. So it was the Elias cultivated these differences and channeled them in directions which would be beneficial to the lives of all . . .

. . . So too, the modern men of Carmel have widespread talents. To further these, clubs are formed which allow the members to pursue their own interests. However, all work together for the good of the school and the honor and glory of Our Blessed Mother.

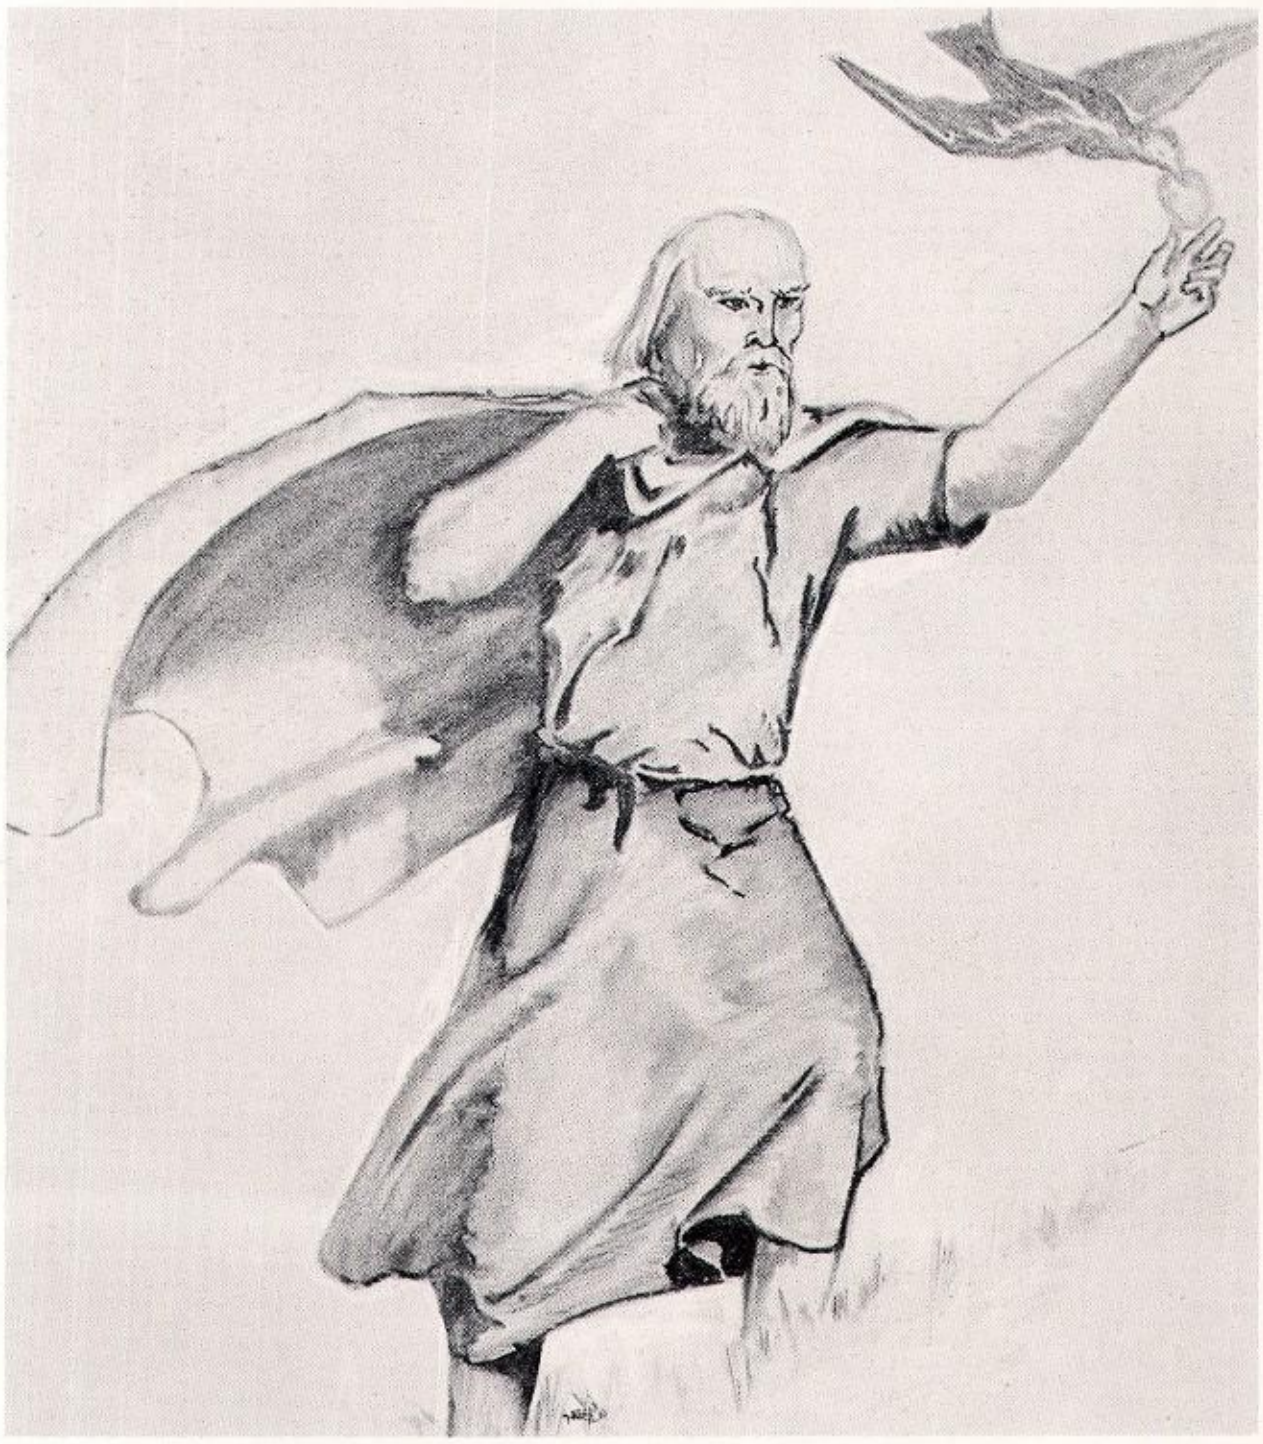
Activities



Once a great famine and drought was levied upon the people of Israel by God through Elias, his prophet. This was punishment for the sins of the people and their king. But Elias miraculously survived, for through the grace of God, he received sustenance from ravens in the desert . . .

. . . The modern men of Carmel are in danger of suffering a different type of famine — a lack of social life. However, they are saved by the many and varied activities sponsored by the school. These activities, just as the ravens and Elias, bring food for both the spiritual and physical lives of the men of Carmel.

Often the peace and security of the colony on Mount Carmel in Palestine was threatened by a national enemy. One such occasion came when the prophets of the false god Baal attempted to overtake the Jewish people. It was then necessary for the group of men under Elias to fight. And with the help of God, fight they did! . . .

. . . So too, it is sometimes necessary for the modern men of Carmel to rally to a cause, even though it may be none greater than an athletic contest. The spirit and strength of small but mighty Carmel has brought many a great foe to his knees.

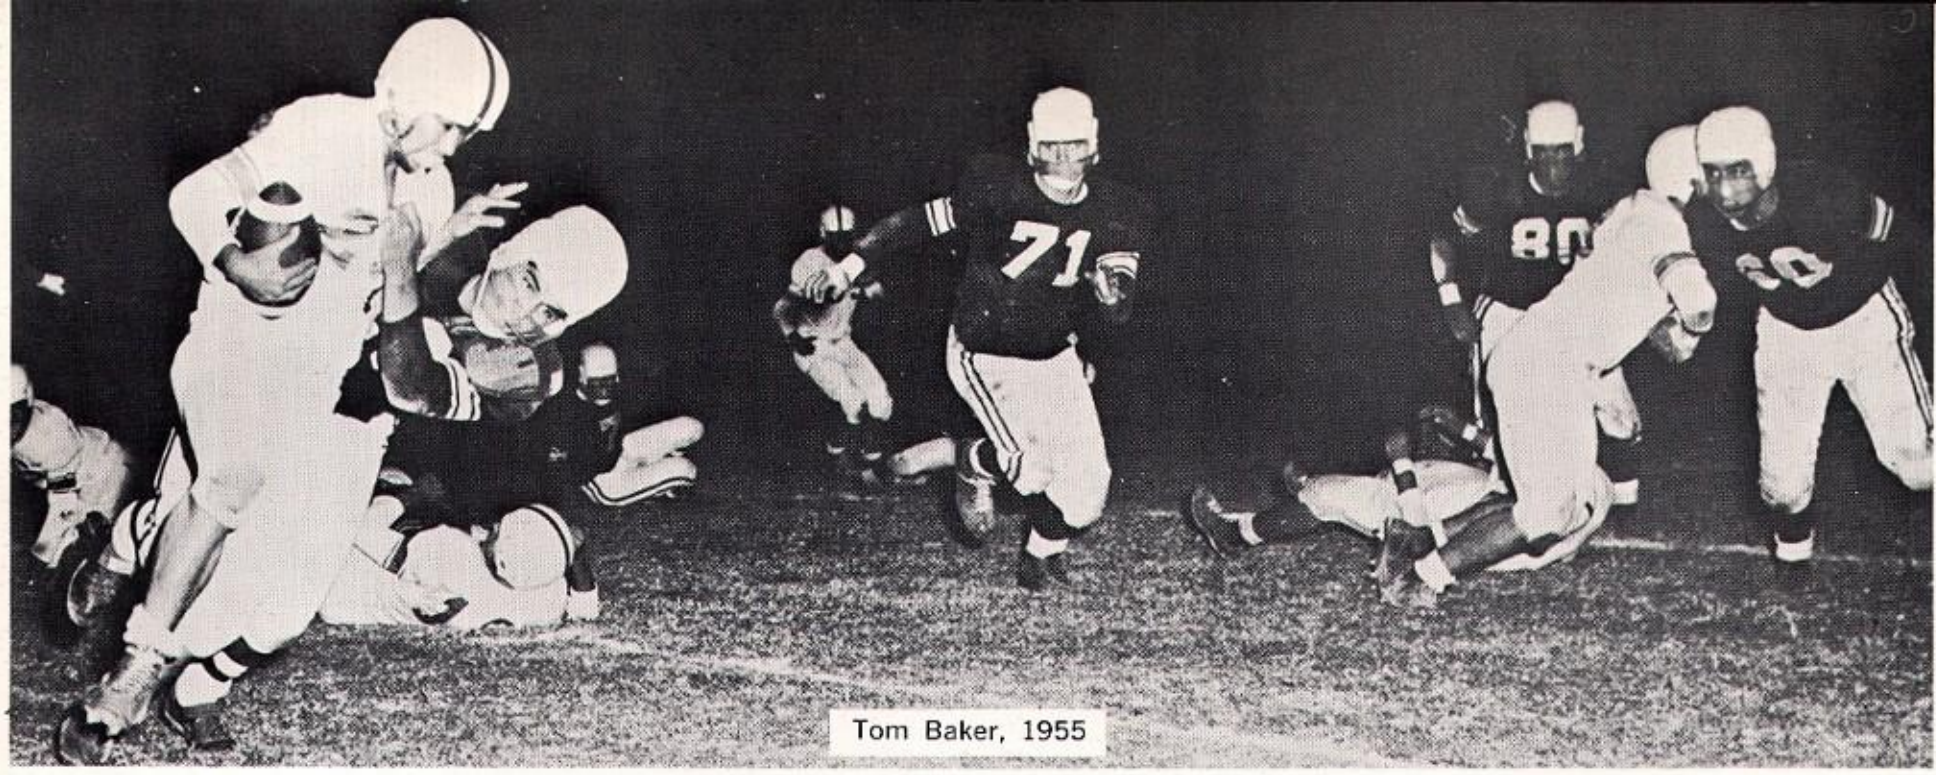
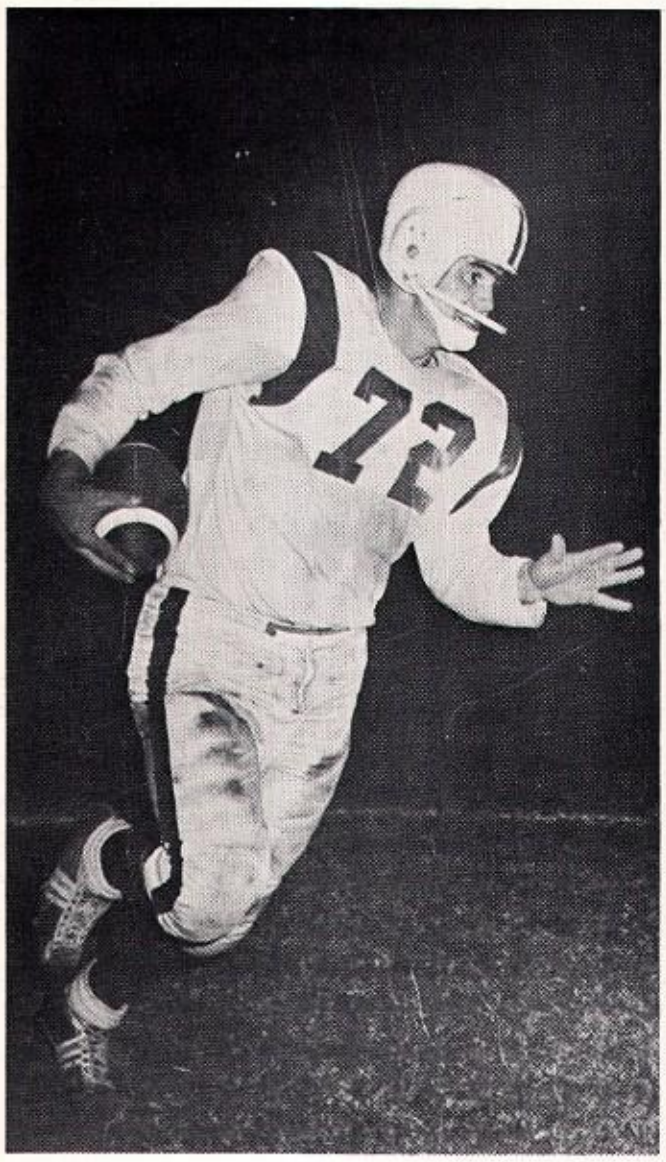
September is a month of expectation here at Mount Carmel. Somewhere during these 30 days, the Carmel Crusaders face their first opponents in that rough and tumble sport called football.

It is this expectation that starts Carmel's spirit brimming over its boundaries and showering it's glowing fire on Carmel's students, players, teachers, coaches, and anyone and everyone who is connected with the school. This spirit is never-dying. For five years the League Conquerors have been the Men of the Brown and White.



Tom Baker, 1955

Five Years Of Champions



Marlin McKeever, 1956

In the course of the past five years, the name of Carmel has been engraved five consecutive times on a championship trophy. In 1955, the Carmelites won the Catholic League Crown in football and repeated that feat for the next four years. Devastating spirit, the drive for self-satisfaction and the glory of being on a team known to all as champions, has made the Men of Carmel work with undying courage for those five fruitful years. Thanks to such men as Pritko, Williams, Ambord, Smith and Hennessy, who have helped and encouraged their respective teams to victory, Mount Carmel can be confident that her future teams will continue in this fine tradition.

Walter Ambord
Head Coach

A graduate of Los Angeles State College, Mr. Walter Ambord did it again! In two previous seasons with much more superior material, he turned in teams of Championship caliber. In 1960, he also fashioned a team that was known to it's opponents as the "Scourge of the Catholic League". From the students of Carmel, thank you, Walter Ambord.

In order to produce top flight linemen, Carmel needed a man who could be stern and dominant but have a knack of earning everyone's heart-felt confidence and respect. They found such a man in Mr. Jerry Hennessy. He took a "green" line and inexperienced pass-catching ends, and molded a frontal attack that swept opposition into a heap of fatigue and confusion. Thanks to you also, Jerry Hennessy.

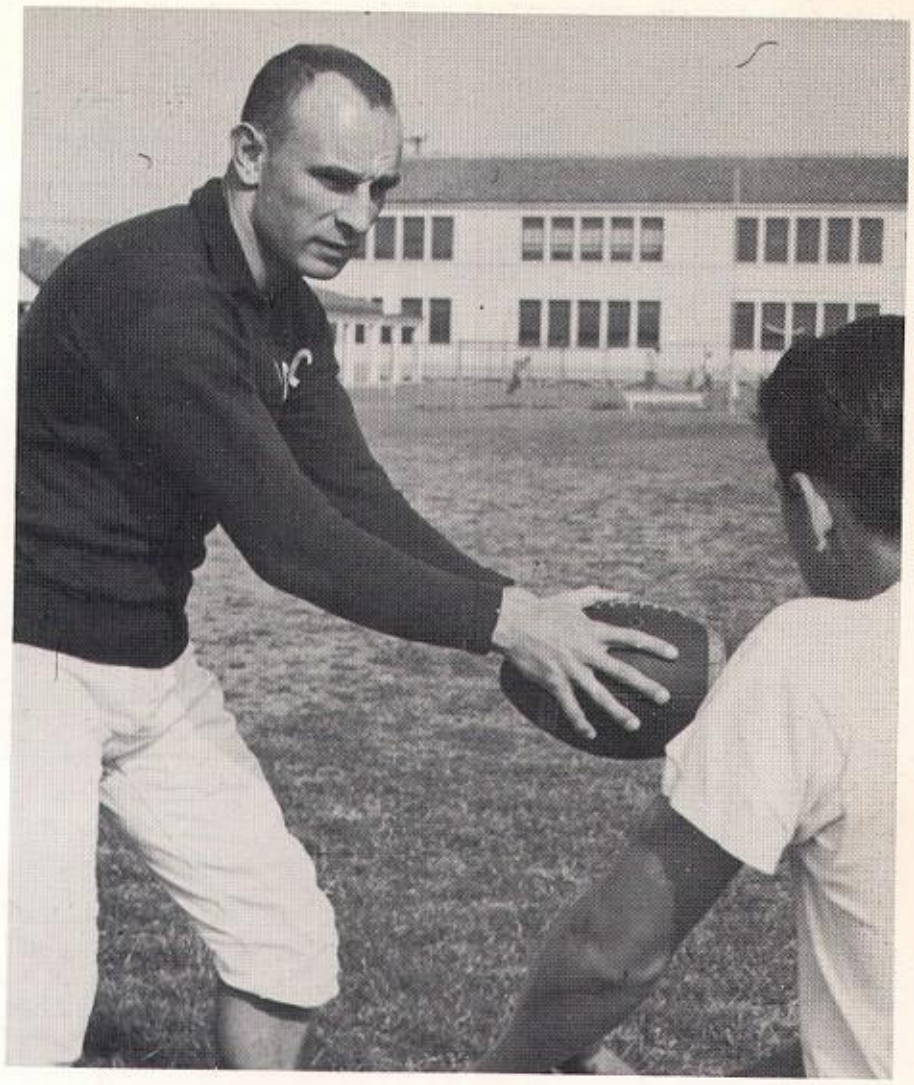
Jerry Hennessy
Line Coach

"To keep a team together, literally," a man once said, "you need two things, spirit and tape." Carmel had both these necessary articles in one man, Mr. Gerald Smith. Not only did "Mr. Carmel" tape the team together with adhesive, he also fastened them with an unbreakable bind of spirit.



Jerry Smith
Trainer

As a newcomer to Mount Carmel, Mr. Thomas Richards, better known as "The Mouse", didn't waste any time falling into the Carmel way of doing things. His skill as a teacher and his virtue of patience helped the Carmelite backfield to the extent of their fifth league championship. Congratulations to these two fine gentlemen.

Expectation reached its peak at the kickoff, that night, of the Carmel-Santa Fe contest. The Crusaders brought the bacon home by running away with a 42-14 victory over the desolate Indians. To the pre-season critics surprise, the Brown and White Men offered a strongly balanced team that cool Fall evening. Long break-away runs and sharp T.D. passes copped the action and turned the cynics' heads. Picked for fourth place in the league, the one-win team faced the 5th ranked C.I.F. candidate, the Morningside Monarchs, the following week. Was It Luck Or Just Plain GUTS????

The fans filed into the brightly lighted Morningside stadium eager to discover the answer to the question. Carmel worked relentlessly during the week preparing for this crucial game and their labors were rewarded abundantly. The Monarchs played rough football, but the Crusaders were rougher. The second period showed the better team set up a picket to pave the path for Pat Smith's T.D. punt return. 76 yards, 6 points and Carmel dismantled the faltering Monarchs 20 to 0. "Who's next?" was the question this time.

Big "M.C." defense halts Phantom halfback.

The league opener is always a bone-breaking game. But with bulls like Relph, Brown, Poszgai, and Arnone the Carmelites turned in another victory performance 14 to 7. On Cantwell's field the Cathedral Phantoms were very stubborn. They were not convinced of Carmel's strength. They had to be shown! It was a sloppily played game and the Phantoms took advantage by keeping the pressure on at all times. Scoring was sparse; one T.D. came on a short 10 yard pass from Arnone to Smith. The next came on a herculean jaunt good for 56 yards by Jerry Bonetto. Pius saw this game and they too proved a tough team.

Sporting a 3 and 0 record the "Scourge of the Catholic League" opposed the Pius X Warriors on the Redskins' hunting grounds. This proved to be a hotly contested game because Carmel lost to Pius 13-14 the year previous. The men of Mary were high for this one. They wanted it badly. Two plays into the game Palanchar broke loose over the center for 80 yards and 6 points. Carmel's tremendous forward wall proved too tough for the Warriors that evening; it moved well on offense and "Thermopolized" strongly on defense. Poszgai added another chunk of yardage to the total and 6 points to the scoreboard. Palanchar repeated for seven yards. 19 to 15, Revenge Is Ours!!! Loyola Cubs Next.

Pozsgai walks the line for T.D.

Carmel's passing attack had remained relatively dormant until this game. Mr. Hennessy thought it about time to wake it up. Throughout the practice week, "the Arnone to Lozano" combination clicked well. Practice makes perfect and it was demonstrated that night. Late in the first quarter Arnone threw a long arched aerial through the outstretched hands of the Cub's defensemen. Lozano snagged it for the touchdown. This proved the difference in the meeting. The remaining thirty-six minutes were taken up by exchanging punts. But Carmel had a score! With only eight seconds to go and three of Carmel's first - string defensemen out with injuries, Loyola had the ball on the two yard line. Fortunately the second stringers proved superb in the clutch and stopped Loyola short. Let's beat Notre Dame!!!

But Pozsgai proved the difference. 21 to 0 showed on the scoreboard at the end. The Carmel Machine mowed the Knights down. Early in the game, Pozsgai gathered in a Knight fumble and trotted 67 yards for the score. The passing attack moved through the air lanes for two additional T.D.'s. Cochrane and Lozano had one each. 56 yards and 5 yards respectively, were the distance of Arnone's point-getting tosses. Carmel

On a rather warm Friday night in October Serra played host to the Brown Bone-Breakers. After this week the powerful second-place Saints were Carmel's target. But the Brown men had to win both games in order to be confident of the League Crown.

This rough and tumble outfit stopped Carmel cold on the ground, and picked off four aerials in the twilight zone. In the third quarter Carmel scrambled and blocked a Serra punt and pinched it over to bring the contest to an even level. The game ended Serra 6, Carmel 6. We had to beat the Long Beach Saints for the Championship and a berth for the CIF bid.

The grand climax of three months of hard work came when the hard-hitting Crusaders met the league-thirsty Saints. In the first quarter both teams were scoreless as the fierce battle waged on. Neither team hit pay dirt until the men of Carmel tallied on a pass play from Arnone to Lozano.

In the last period the Saints retaliated with a quarry of six while Carmel mustered its offenses for a final charge. As the final gun sounded, marking the end of the game, the Crusaders were on top by a score of 18 to 7. This victory assured Mount Carmel of an entrance into the CIF.

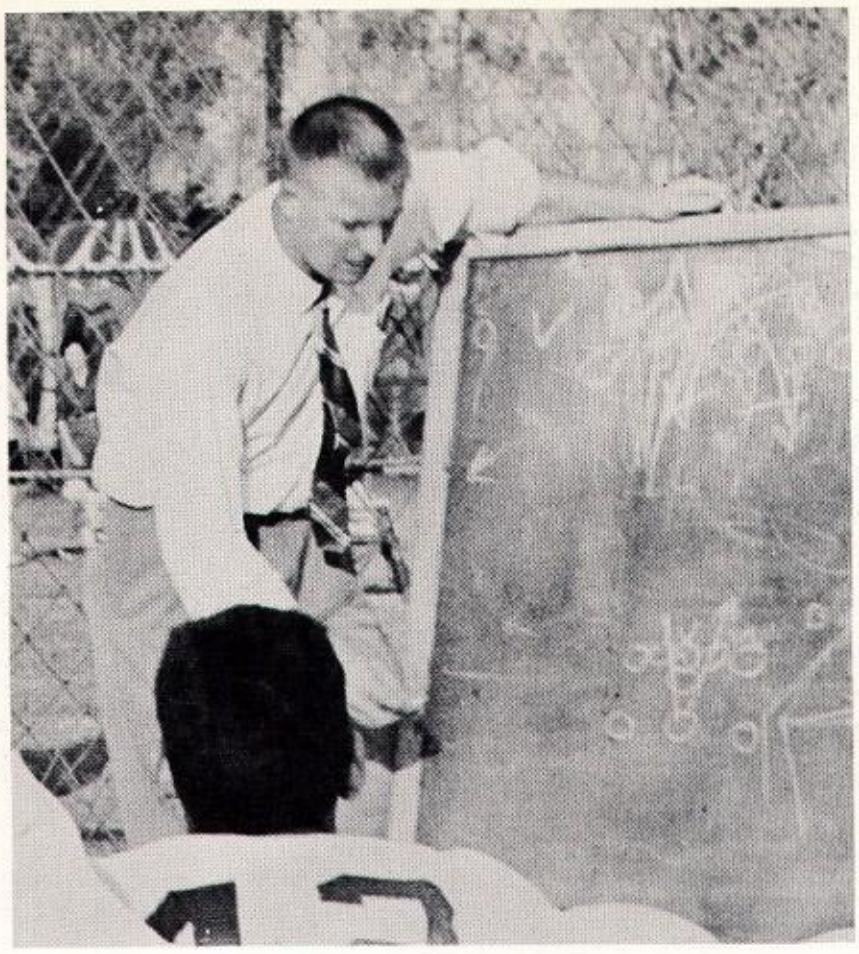
Carmel then contested with the "Jackrabbits" of Long Beach Poly. Carmel was overpowered by Poly's fleet backs and powerful line. The Crusaders battled fiercely but to no avail. The four-year, second-game jinx, seemed to be unconquerable as the Crusaders ended up in the losing column 42 to 12.



John Smith
Head Coach

John Smith, UCLA graduate, former Carmel student, and great end in the 1954 Rose Bowl Game, coached the Junior Varsity football team in the typical Smith fashion. With drive and zeal he whipped together a rough and sturdy team, one that Carmel will always be proud of.

Like Mr. Richards, Harlan Maine arrived fresh and new at Mount Carmel in 1959. He worked well with the boys. His job was to teach the J. V. backfield speed, deception and good fundamental football. He did so notably, being responsible for many Carmel touchdowns.

Mr. Art Bell in his last piloting job for the Mount Carmel Crusaders did more than was asked of him. Behind the team all the way, Mr. Bell taught outstanding basketball to each of the players. He led the 1959-60 Varsity to the runner-up position in the Catholic League and a berth in the C.I.F. playoffs. In pre-season tilts with city teams the Crusaders were undefeated. In his last season as a Carmel Coach, Art Bell deserves recognition as one of our finest coaches.

Having conquered their pre-league opponents, the Crusaders advanced into the Compton and Carmel Tournaments. Placing first in their home tourney and second to their league foe, Saint Anthony's, in the Compton tourney, the Men of Carmel were about to cruise into league action. The first round passed by with many closely-contested games. With only eight seconds left to play and one point back, in the St. Anthony's game, Larry Maya raced down court, and dunked the winning ducat, retaining Carmel's perfect record for the first round. In the second round the mighty Crusaders stumbled, losing the games, one to their old nemesis, the Saints, and the other to Pius at the Warrior's home court. Carmel finished second in the league standings and gained a position in the C.I.F. playoffs.

Dennis Schreiner
Forward

One of the outstanding highlights was seen in the Carmel Serra clash. During the past football season the Brown and White Champions were tied 6 to 6 by the Cavalier eleven, thus ruining Carmel's perfect league record and inflicting sharp pains of pessimism upon many fervent fans, following the 1960 Crusaders. The new basketball season provided a perfect opportunity for the Carmel five to regain some of their fans' respect. Keeping the Van Ness Horsemen under their sternest pressure, the Carmelites trounced them both physically and mentally. With this great victory, Carmel once again ranked number one in Catholic League circles.

Sporting a well-respected record from their tough Catholic League Season, the Crusaders prepared for the C.I.F. play-offs by tough daily practices. Coach Bell thought his team was ready to meet Chaffey, but the Orange and Black won out by only one point, 57 to 56.

We can't say enough about the members of the 1960 Basketball Squad here at Carmel. Men like Dennis Schreiner and George Heatter are fine examples of the type of athlete produced at Carmel. Both of them were awarded well-deserved awards as tributes to their spirited efforts.

Hal Rojes
Head Coach

Hal Rojes accomplished a great deal in his first year as a Carmel Coach. His fresh approach encouraged his Junior Varsity Team to great efforts, in each and every game. In the name of the entire Student Body we congratulate him on his success as a man of Carmel.

In accordance with the overwhelming demand to witness our national pastime, Mount Carmel offers two baseball teams. The Varsity, consisting of Juniors and Seniors, proved to be an inspiration for the Sophomores and Freshmen, who make up the Junior Varsity team. Fighting with the spirit and courage for which Carmel is renowned, both teams have carried on the tradition of Our Lady very proudly.

John Smith, Tom Richards, Walt Ambord.

This year, conditioning was the watchword for the Varsity track team. Under the watchful guidance of Mr. John Smith, the team worked long and hard to reach their goal. Mr. Smith's encouragement and knowledge contributed much to the team's spirit.

Mr. Richards became the team's ramrod. Working mainly with the hurdlers and sprinters, he drove the team on as individuals and as a group.

Mr. Ambord, in charge of the field events men, taught them the techniques necessary to excel in their particular events. He instilled both spirit and determination in his charges.

Varsity Coaches

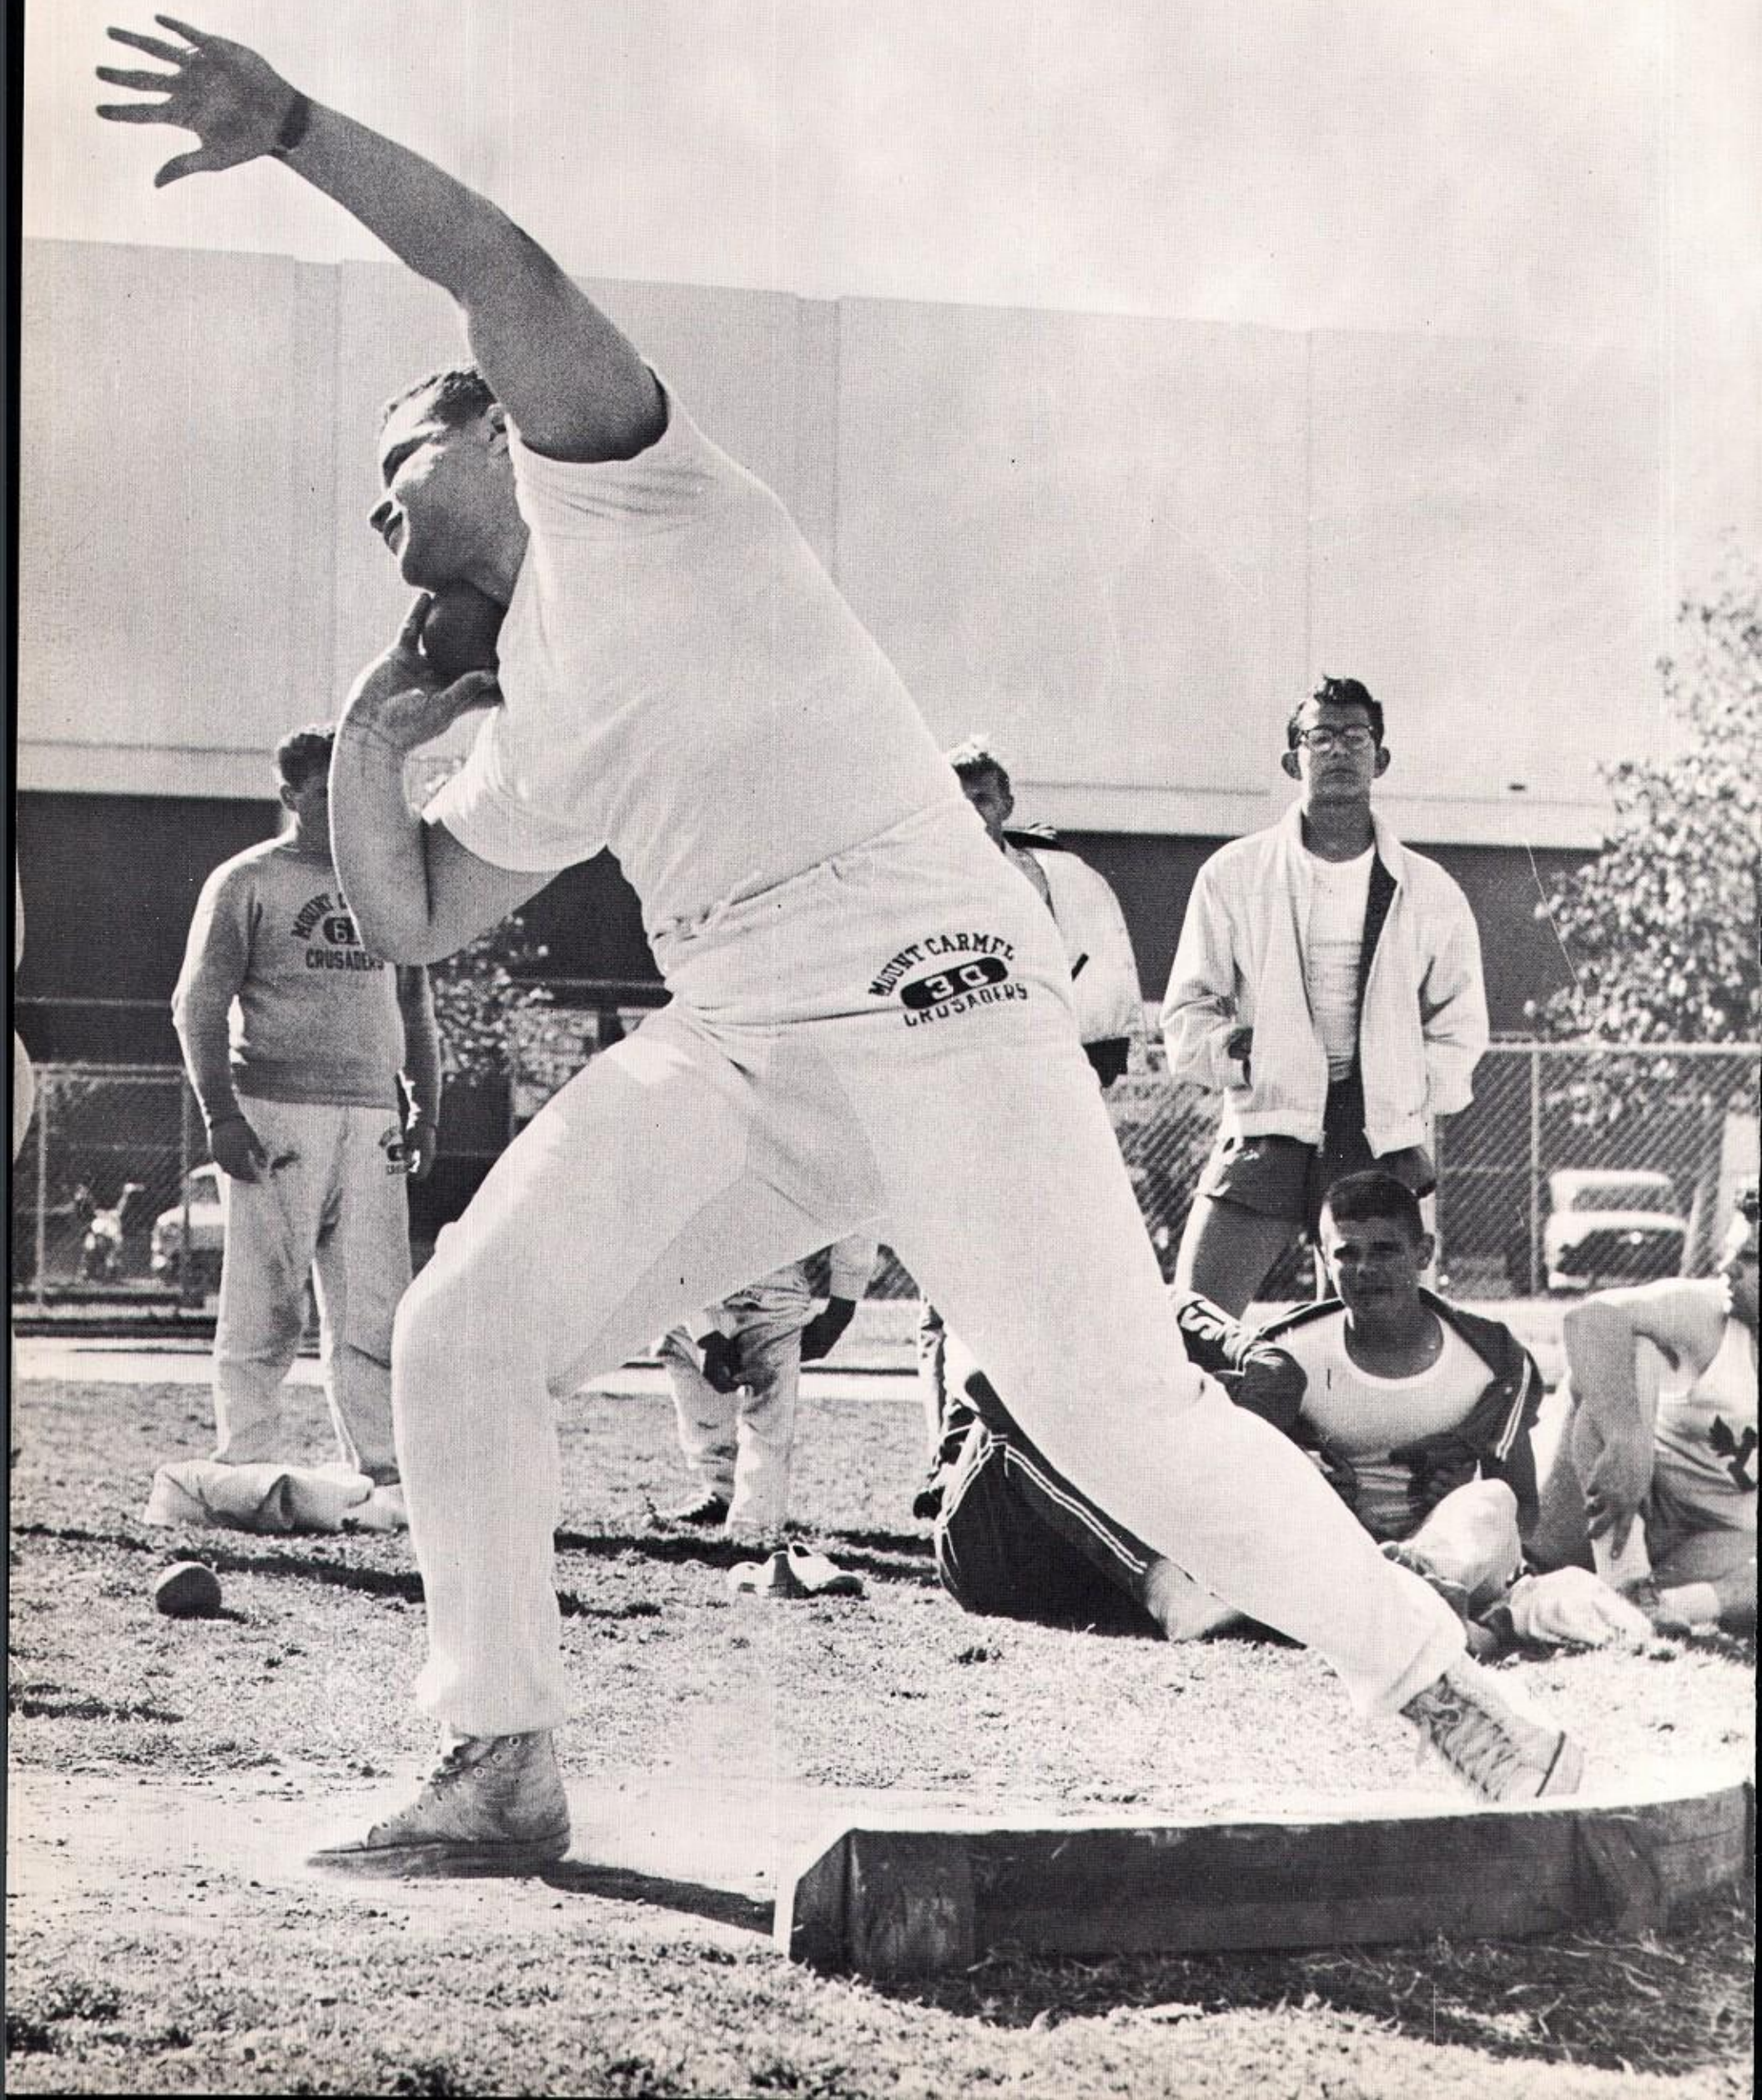
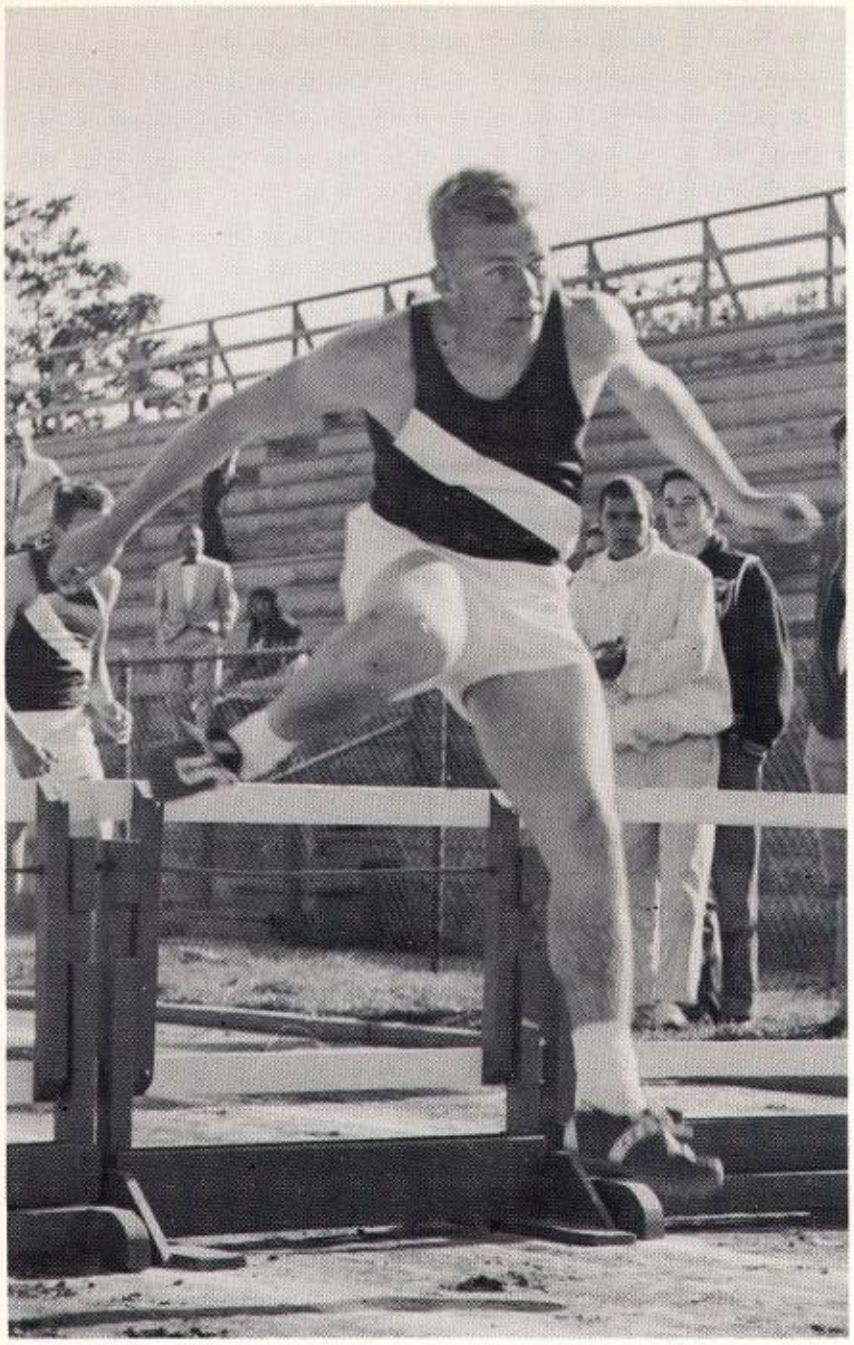
Track and Field





Ron Matty "chops" the lows.

Boasting two tremendous athletes in Ron Matty and Mike Brown, the Carmel spikers charged into league competitions. Matty excelled in the broad jump and 180 low hurdles. He took many firsts in both events. Brown, the C.I.F. football player, romped with the "shot". Both boys entered the C.I.F. finals.

Men like Cole, Matthews, Chapman and Roach balanced the team. Self-satisfaction and teamwork spurred the Varsity to strive always for perfection. This is a trademark that Carmel men carry throughout their entire lives.

Steve Mosley
Coach

Mr. Mosley is a student of the University of Southern California, a busy swimming enthusiast, and a very efficient water sport coach. In his first year here at Carmel, Steve brought home to Carmel an undefeated, Championship Varsity Swimming Team. Realizing the great potential in his sprinters and distance men, Santoni and Willis, he worked relentlessly forcing his men to do their best and to always strive to do better. His efforts were rewarded abundantly when Santoni set three school records, the relay team finished the season unbeaten while setting new records at every meet, and all distance men cut through the aqua piling up points that were the differences in many meets.

Such stars as Richard Santoni, George Cuttrell, and Tony Auth, proved invaluable. Santoni, himself, broke three school records, while setting a stiff pace to be followed by his swimming team-mates. Cuttrell and Auth, both members of the Student Council, took time out from their Student Body chores, to flash through the "agua" and mount the points from Carmel's victories.

The Cloak of Elias

. . . Elias said to Eliseus, "make what request of me thou wilt, before I am carried away from thee." And he answered, "I would have a double portion of the spirit thou leavest behind thee" . . .
IV Kings 2

Elias the Prophet was a man of fire . . . he burned with a holy fervor for the things of "the Lord God of Hosts". A true man of Carmel will participate of this spirit, and will, in all his actions, reflect this ardor of Our Father Elias.

On the following pages we are able to present some pictures of men whom we feel are worthy of being called "Sons of the Prophet" . . . partakers of the double spirit of zeal for God and love of Mary — men who have "taken up the cloak of Elias".

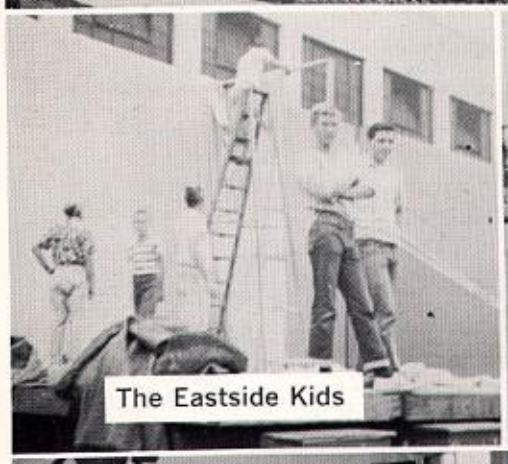
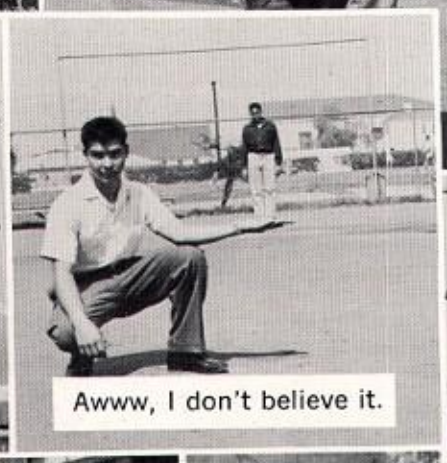
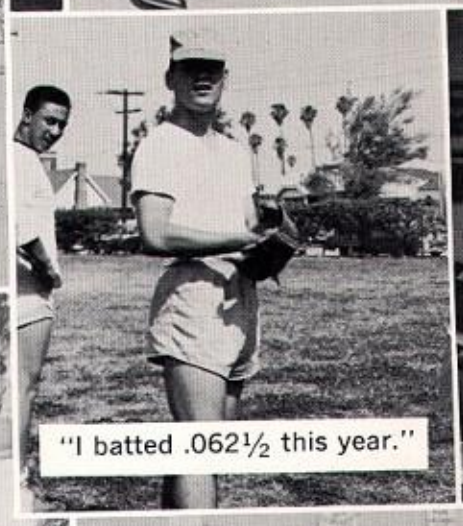
Guess who had his own party.



The Eastside Kids



Awww, I don't believe it.



"I batted .062½ this year."

Chin up, old boy.

Tap, tap. (For Old Tap Lager?)

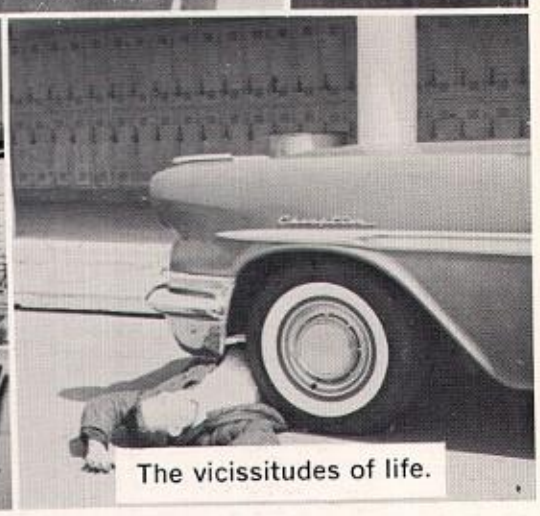
Zorro!

Herr Avery and his Storm Troopers.

Concentration

"Geronimo!"

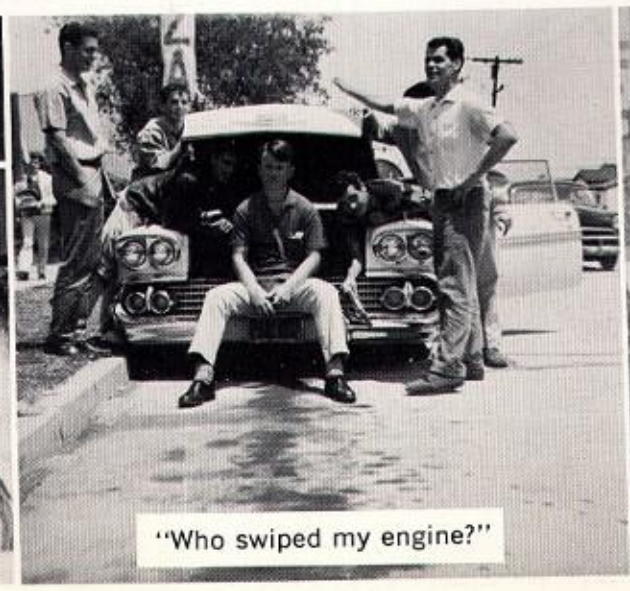
"Run! The three bears are here!"



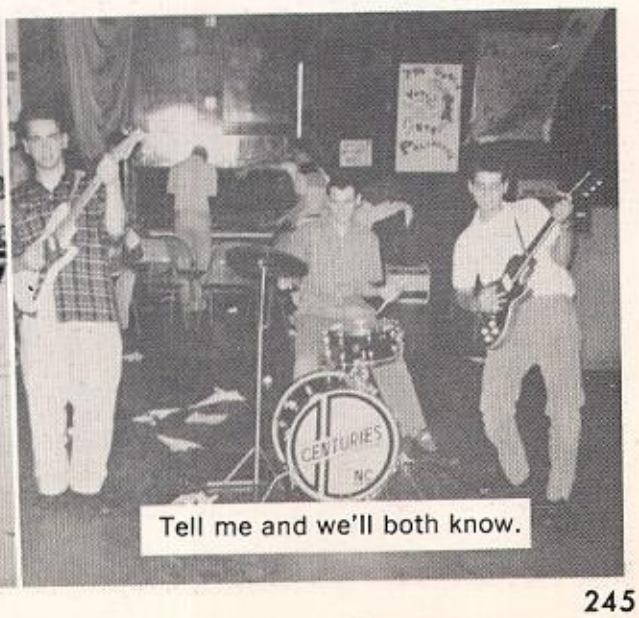
The vicissitudes of life.

"Hey, she's cute."

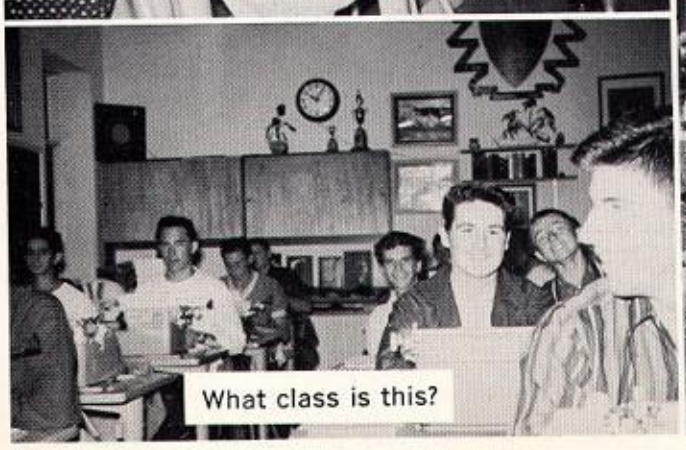
A Break in the Routine



"Who swiped my engine?"

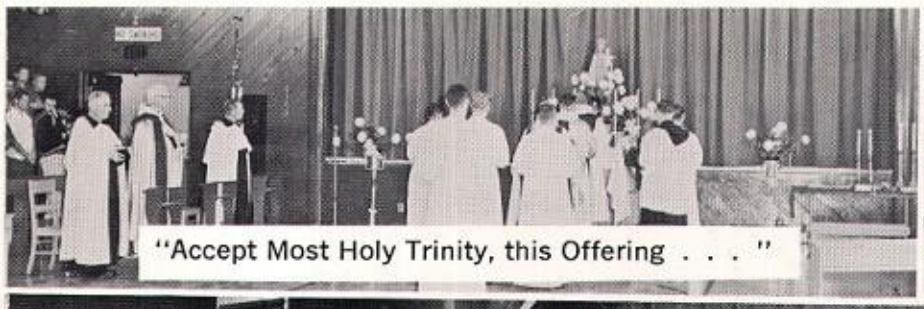


Tell me and we'll both know.

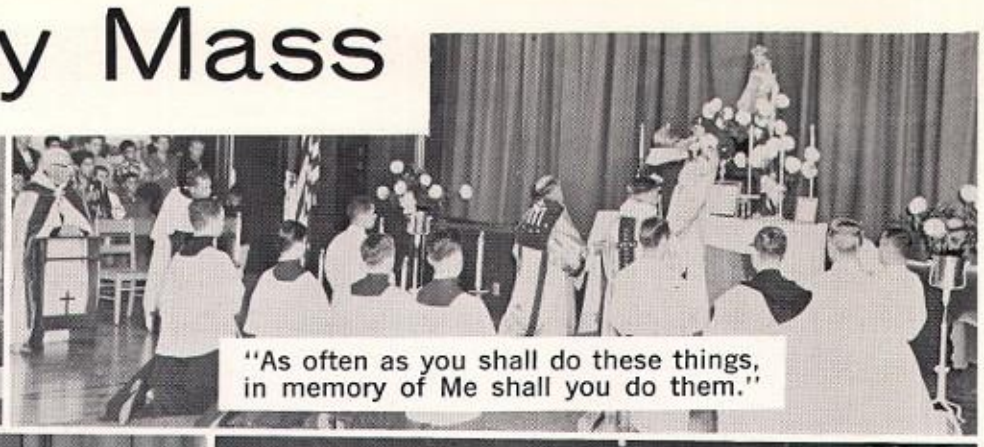


What class is this?

25th Anniversary Mass



"Accept Most Holy Trinity, this Offering . . . "



"As often as you shall do these things, in memory of Me shall you do them."

"Benedictio Dei omnipotentis . . . "

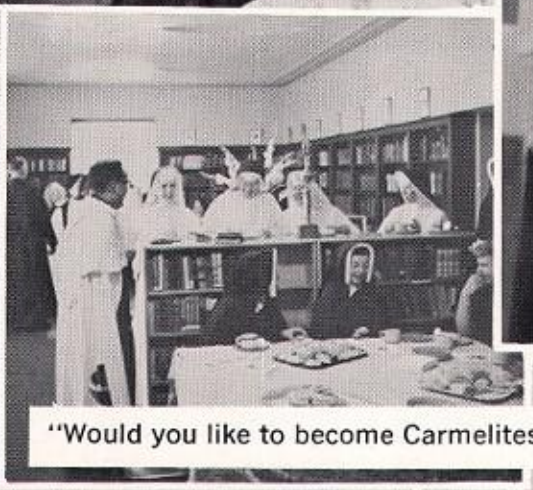
"Corpus Domini nostri Jesu Christi custodiat animam tuam in vitam aeternam. Amen."

Fr. Hollinger, Class of '38

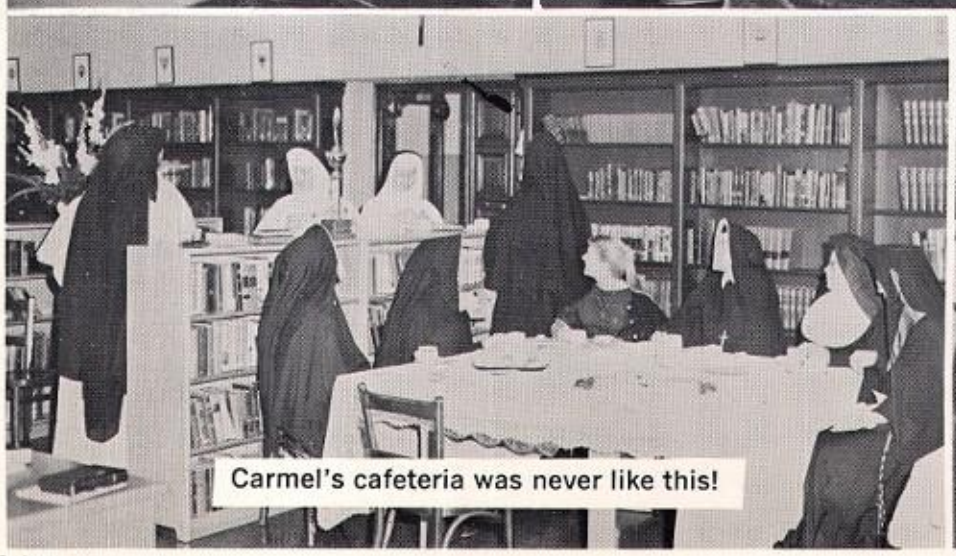
Fr. Dionysius Flanagan, O. Carm., Founder of Mt. Carmel High

"Per Ipsum, et cum Ipso . . . "

"Gaudete!"

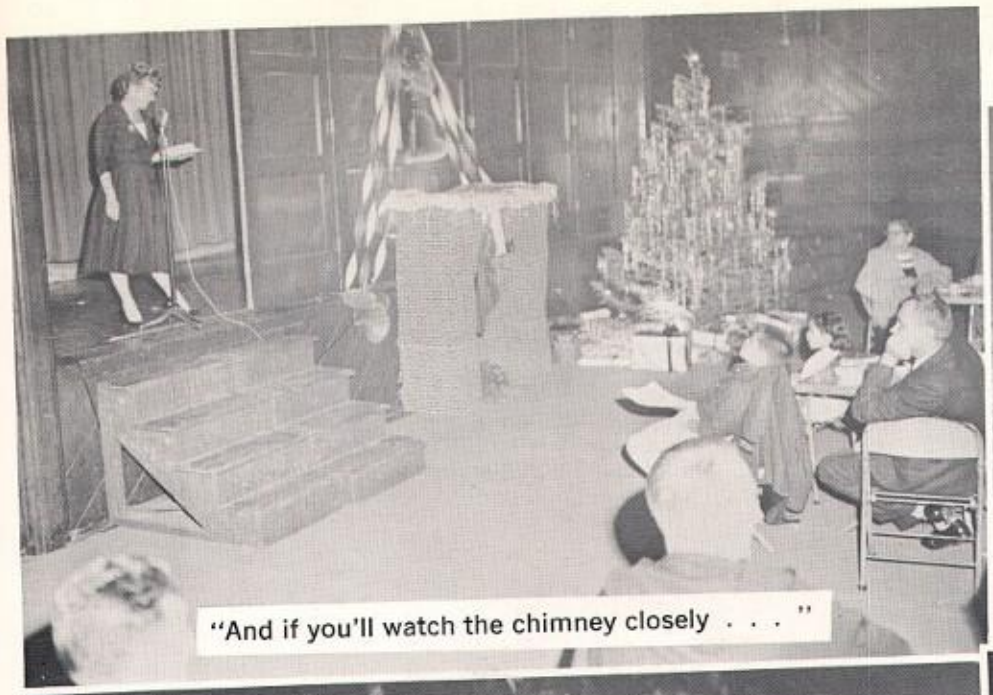


"Would you like to become Carmelites?"

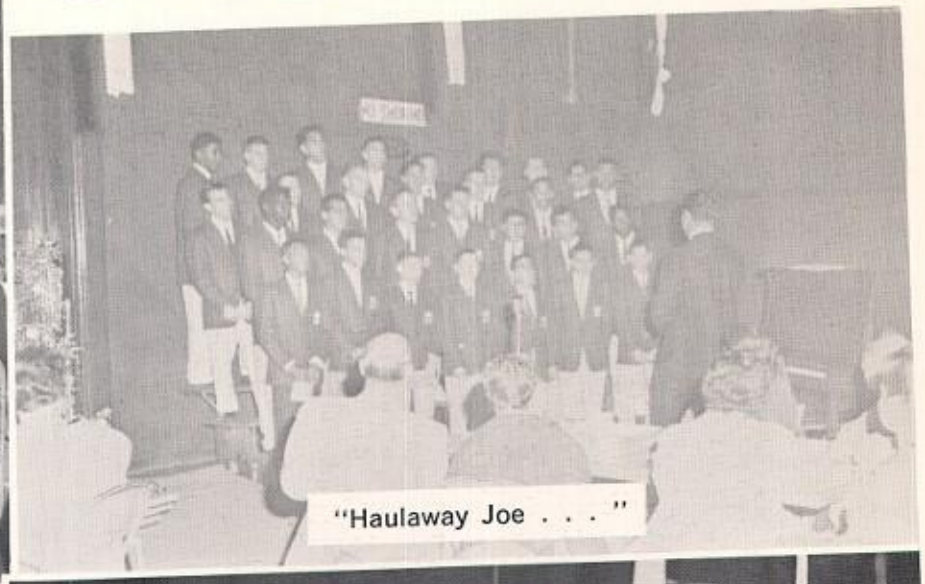


Carmel's cafeteria was never like this!

Christmas Party

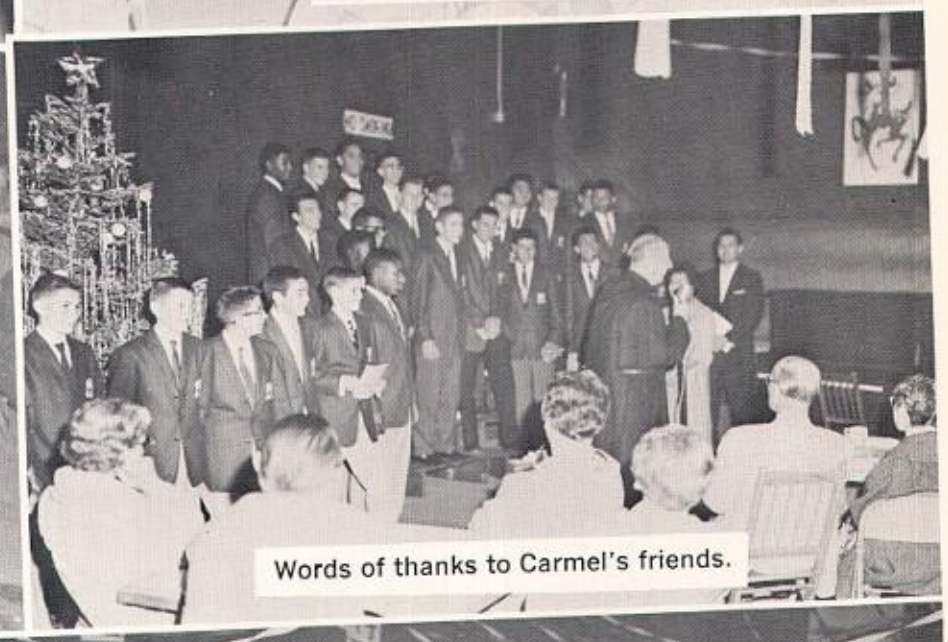


"And if you'll watch the chimney closely . . . "



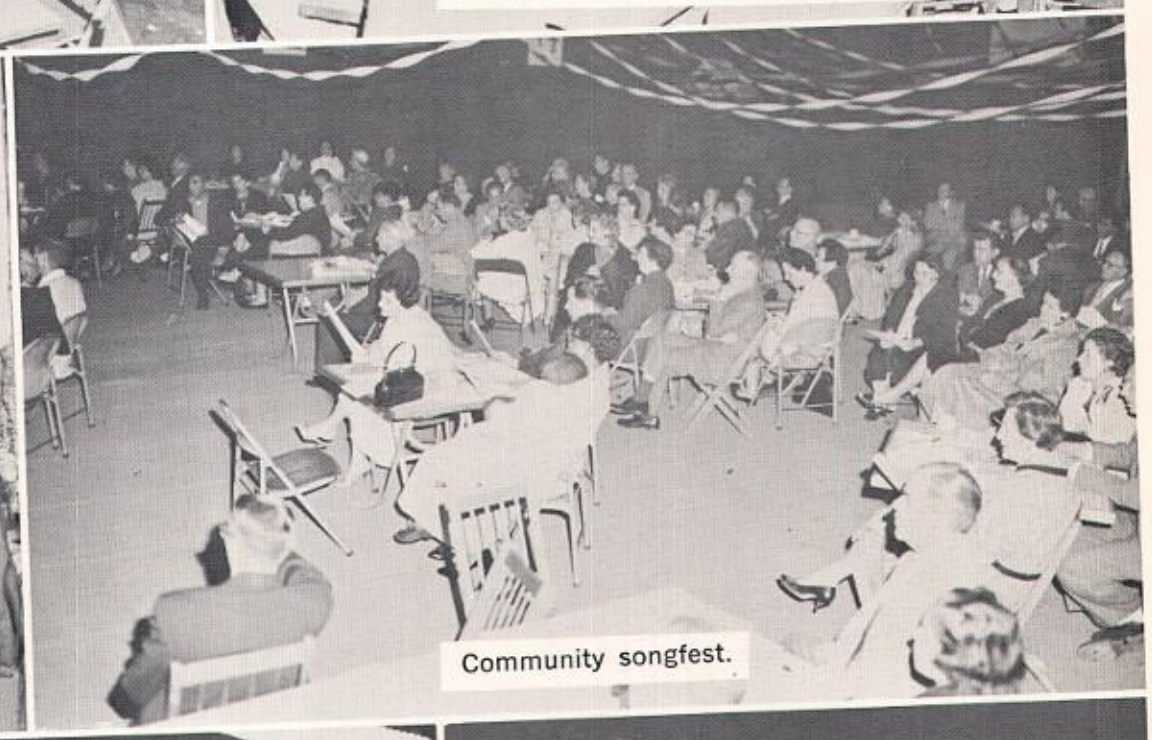
"Haulaway Joe . . . "

Party caucus.



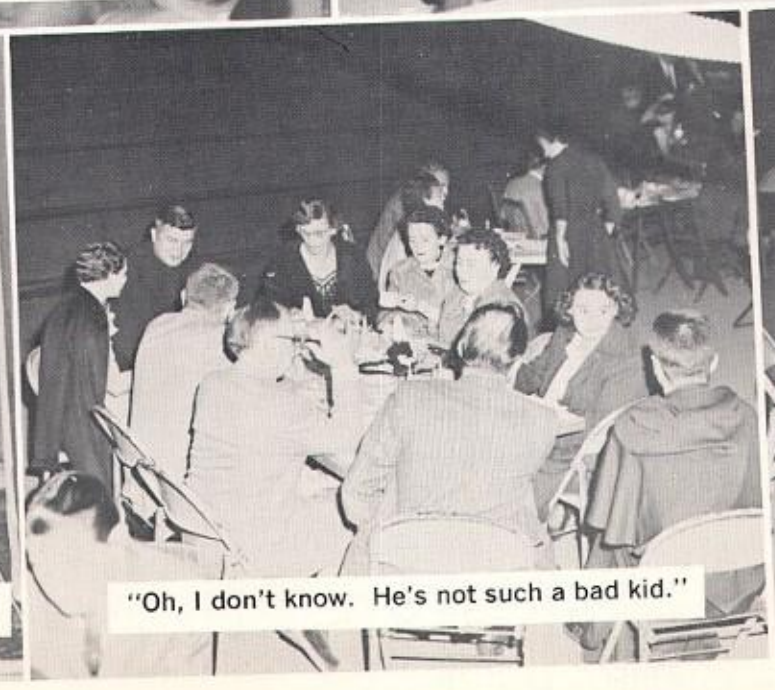
Words of thanks to Carmel's friends.

"Santa hasn't arrived yet?"



Community songfest.

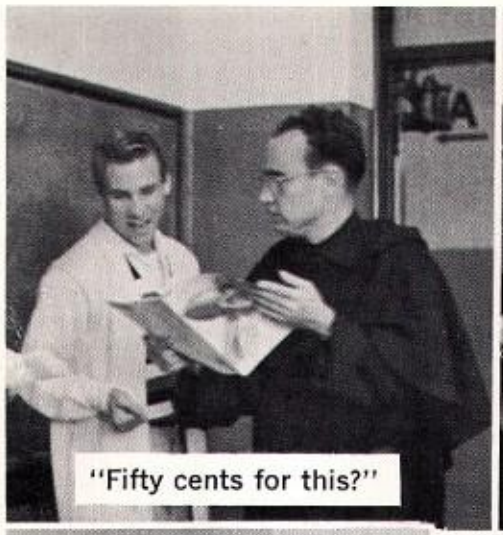
"Cord's a little short, huh?"



"Oh, I don't know. He's not such a bad kid."

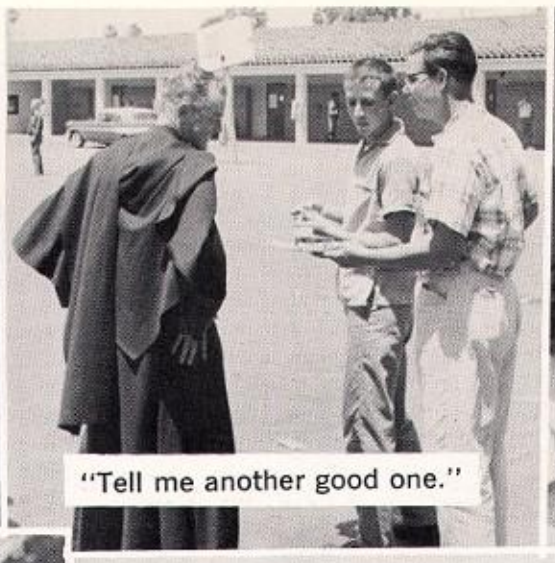
"Where is that waiter?"

A Few Laughs



"Fifty cents for this?"

Walk softly and carry a big stick.

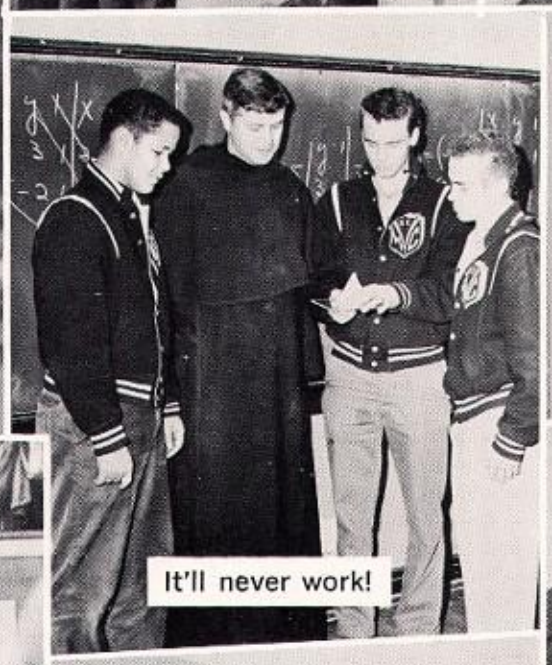


"Tell me another good one."

"Ha, ha, ha, ha—that hurt!"

"When can I move in?"

"Think it's aged enough?"

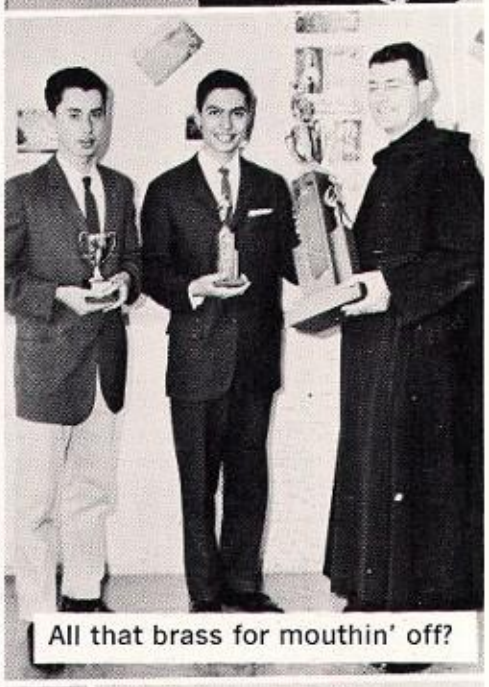


It'll never work!

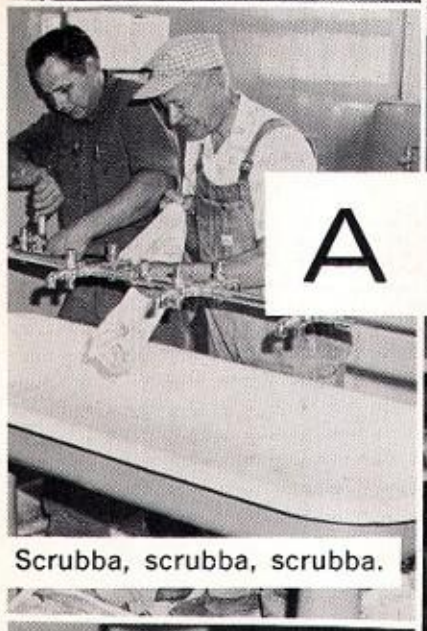
All this, and he sings too?

"I never noticed these two before!"

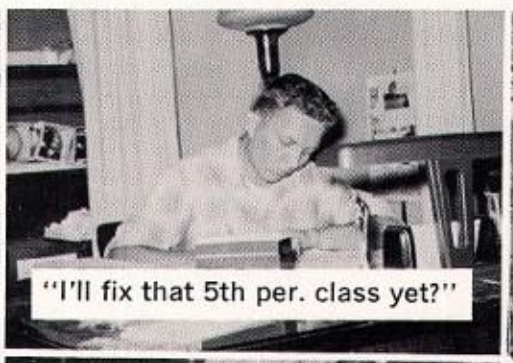
"I'm not used to such treatment."



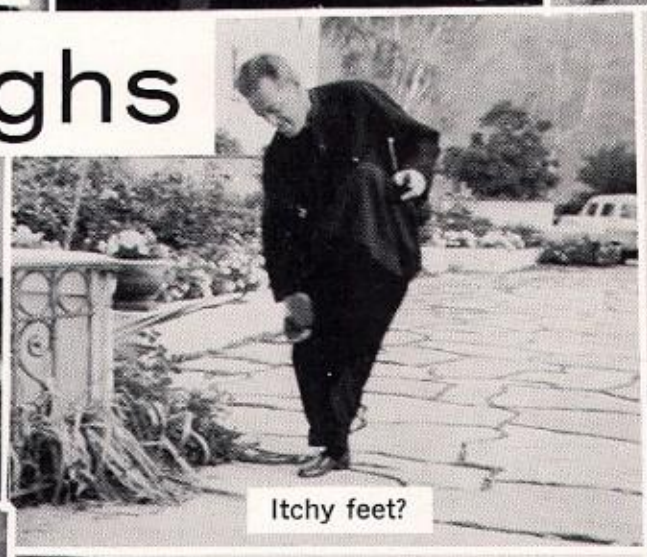
All that brass for mouthin' off?



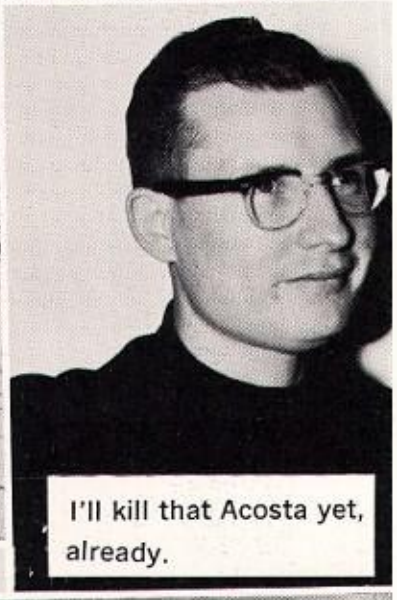
Scrubba, scrubba, scrubba.



"I'll fix that 5th per. class yet?"

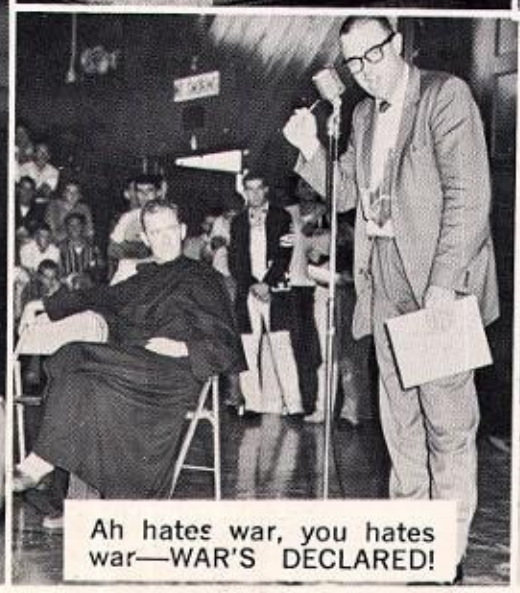


Itchy feet?



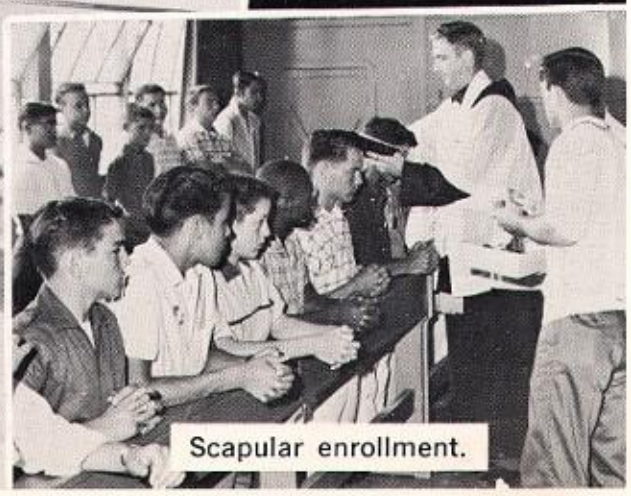
I'll kill that Acosta yet, already.

Fr. Daly makes book.



Ah hates war, you hates war—WAR'S DECLARED!

"I'll give them one more chance."



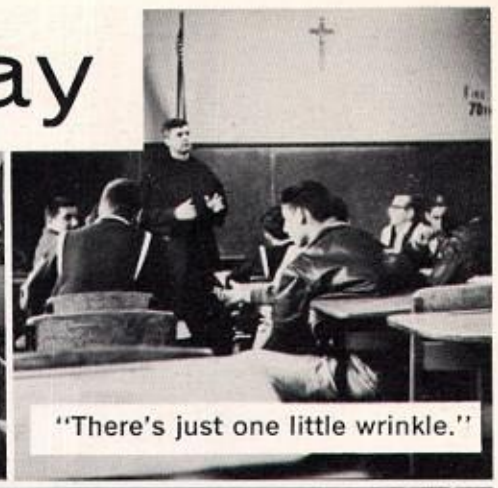
Scapular enrollment.

A Carmel Day

"Repent, brethren"

Heads up!

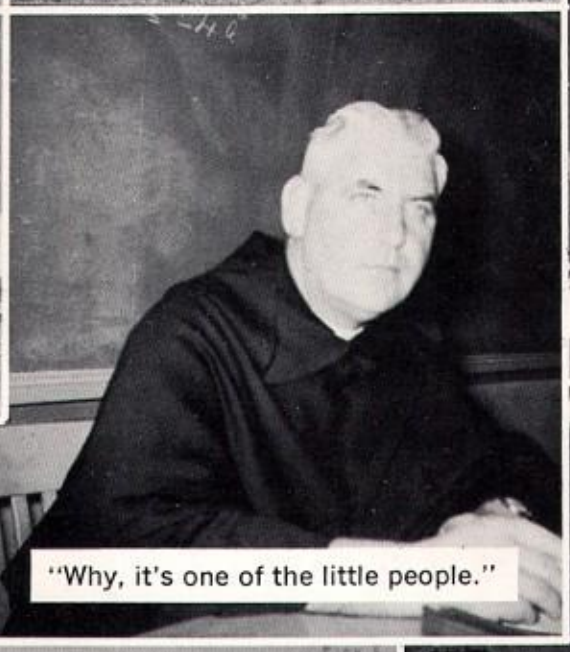
Carmel's like this every day.



"There's just one little wrinkle."

Fr. Joel gives party for a few intimate friends.

Eyes front!



"Why, it's one of the little people."

"How'll we get back at the students this week?"

Sandy, John, & Jeff

"Say after me . . . "

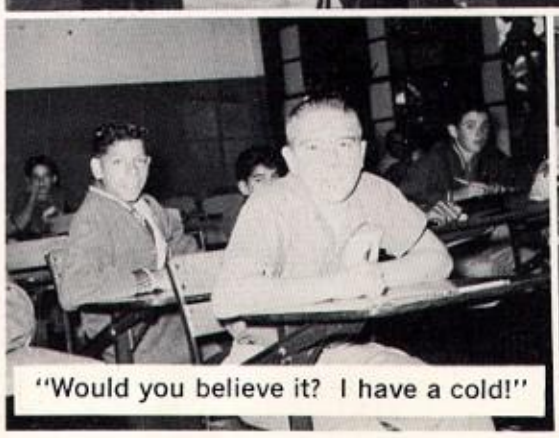
"I don't care if it is Washington's birthday. We're having class."

The brothers Three

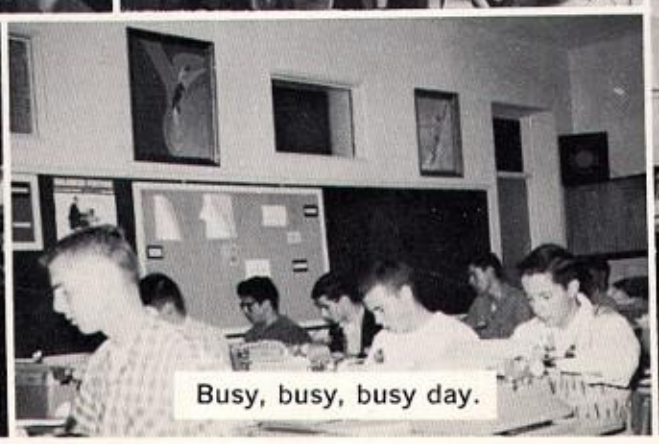
"The lens is cracking!"

"Who goes there again?"

"It's very simple if you listen."



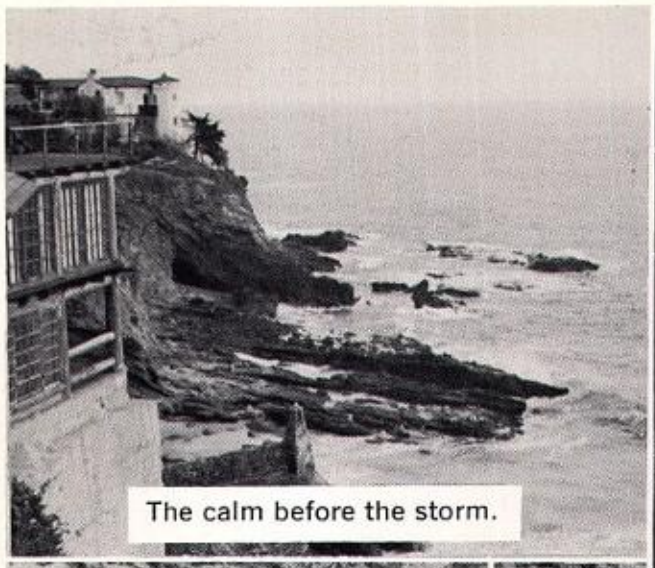
"Would you believe it? I have a cold!"



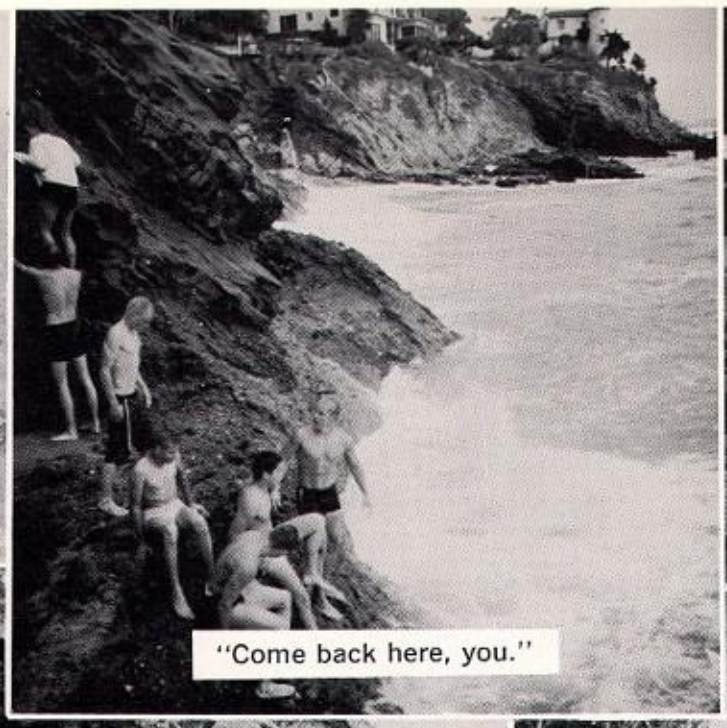
Busy, busy, busy day.

"Do you think it'll ever end?"

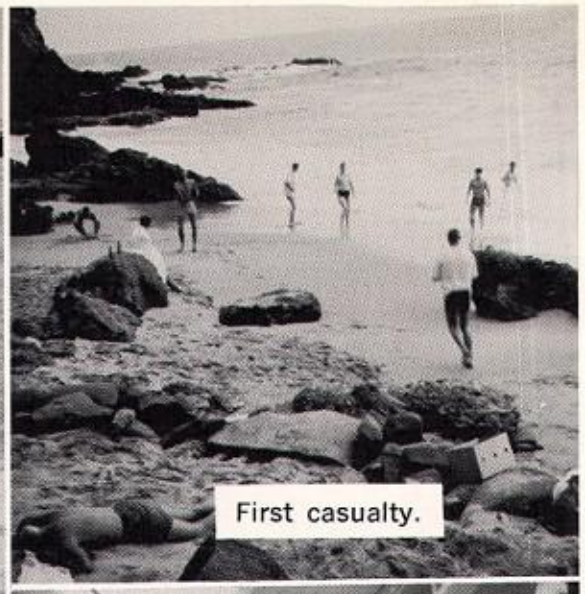
Swim-Team Picnic



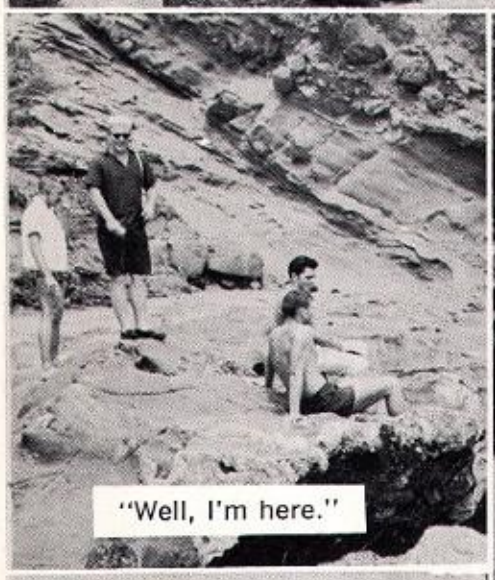
The calm before the storm.



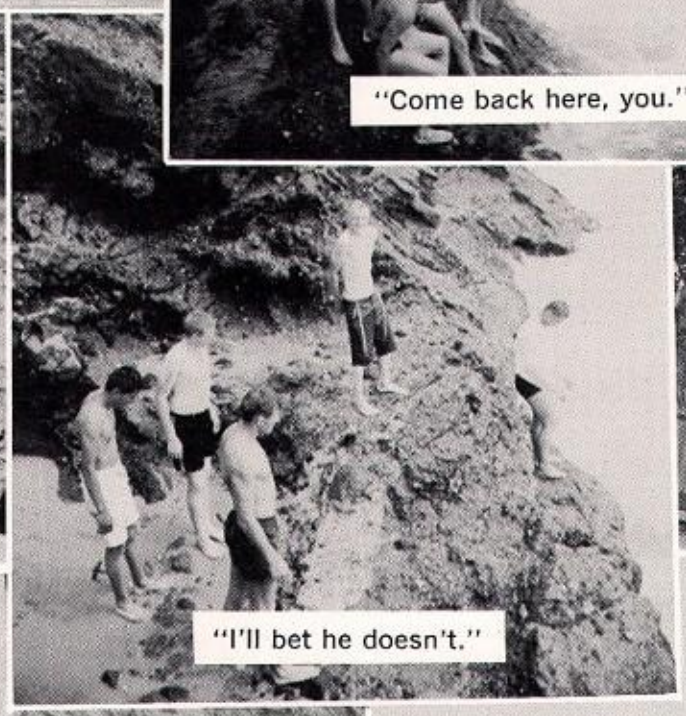
"Come back here, you."



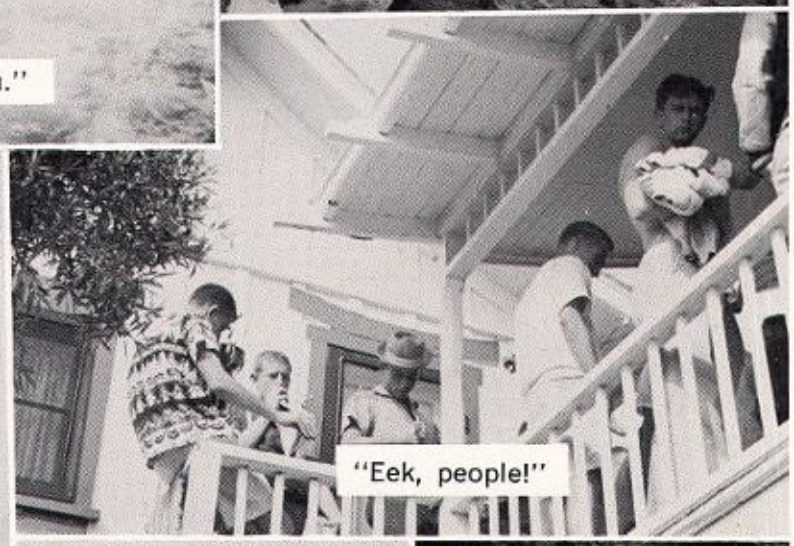
First casualty.



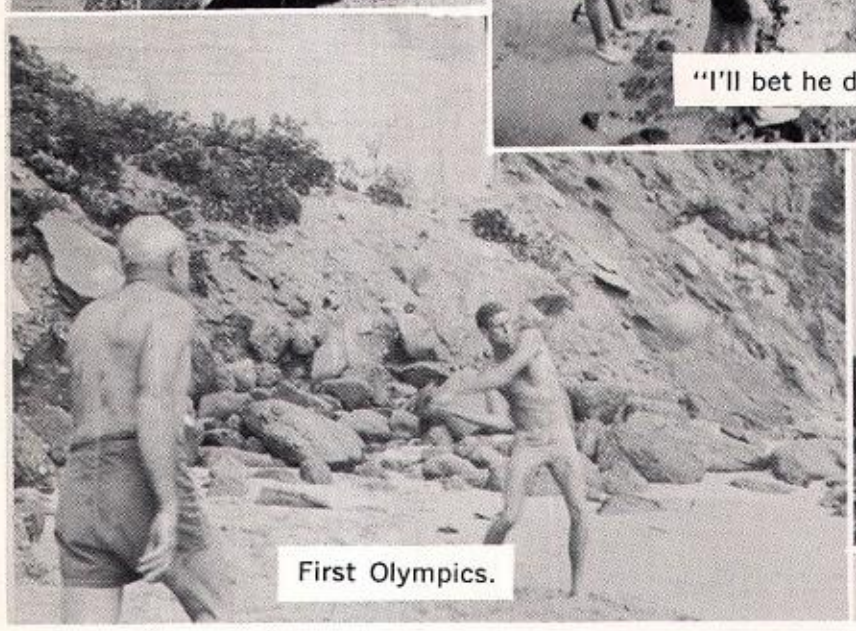
"Well, I'm here."



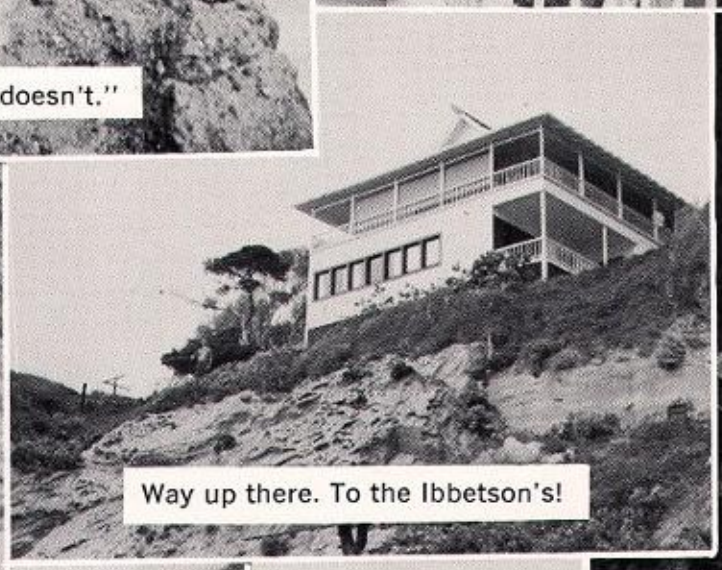
"I'll bet he doesn't."



"Eek, people!"

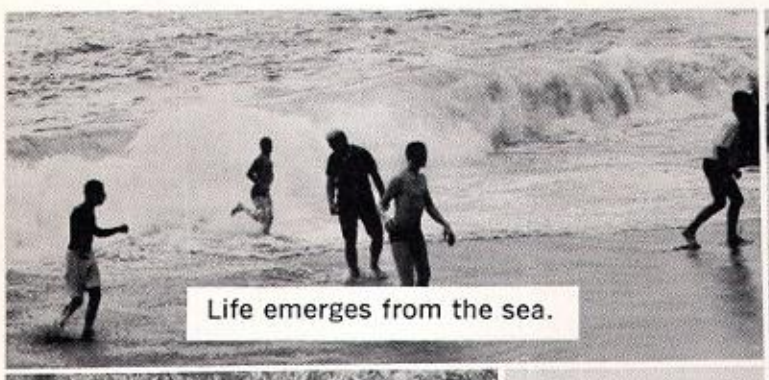


First Olympics.



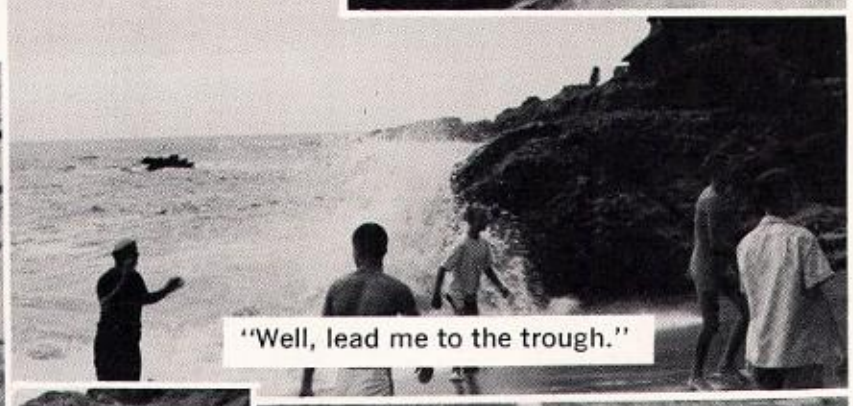
Way up there. To the Ibbetson's!

"Gee, it's calm today."



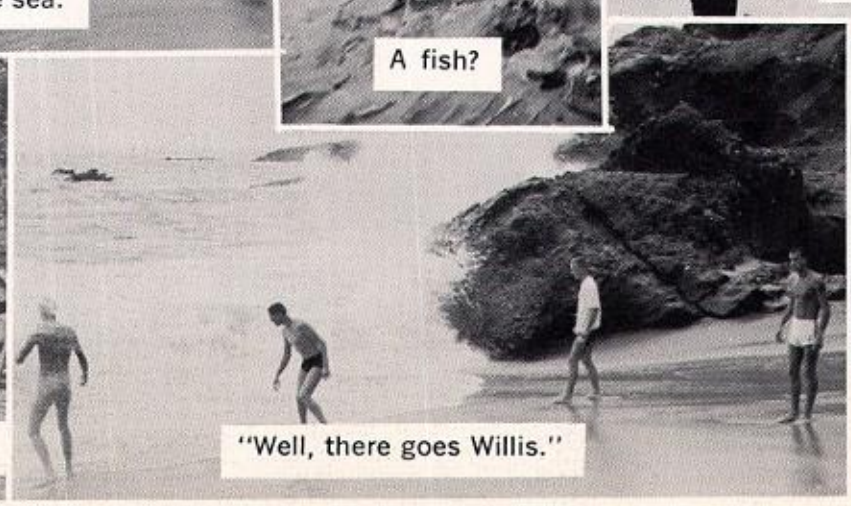
Life emerges from the sea.

A fish?



"Well, lead me to the trough."

"What do you mean, poison ivy?"



"Well, there goes Willis."

"You name it and I'll feed it."

Carmel's Benefactors and Friends

"In this we have known the charity of God, because He hath laid down His life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. He that hath the substance of this world, and shall see his brother in need, and shall shut up his heart from him, how doth the charity of God abide in him?"
1 John 3, 16, 17.

Our Lord preached that we should dare everything in the exercise of charity, or rather, He recommended that we undergo everything for our brethren, in these admonitions, "If a man will contend with thee in judgment, and take away thy coat, let go thy cloak also unto him. And whosoever will force thee one mile, go with him another two. Give to him that asked of thee, and from him that would borrow of thee, turn not away" (Matt. 5, 40-42). Therefore, it is not sufficient not to do ill, but true charity impels us to do good, insofar as we are able, in thought, word, and deed.

Besides, we must wish and desire all blessings of grace and glory for our neighbor and such temporal blessings as will lead to them, and we must sincerely rejoice with him for those he already has.

We must cover over his defects and excuse them as far as they are excusable; we must patiently bear the annoyance he inflicts on us and forgive injuries; we must live amicably with him and assist him as we are able in attaining eternal salvation; we must edify him by our example. Sometimes it seems more difficult to think well of our neighbor and sincerely wish him well than to do him good. But we can pray for all and offer our sacrifices to God for them. Prayer and sacrifices are always of value, even when other means have failed . . . The Carmelite Directory of the Spiritual Life . . .

"Grant, we beseech Thee, Almighty God, that as Thou didst lift up Blessed Elias, thy Prophet and our Father, in a fiery chariot unto heaven, while he was yet in this life, thou mayest so form us through his intercession that, while we still live, our souls may be lifted up from the things of earth to those of heaven, and that we may rejoice with him in the Resurrection of the just. Amen."
